Resilience Committee Meeting Notes

Notes

April 1, 2026

Attended by Carl Danielson, Wendy Carr, Susy Ellis, Jason Ludwig, Sarah Oktay, Ryan LeShane, as well as Paul Ureneck and Nicole Price from Colby College and Aaron Hunter and Shane Kelly from Sebago Technics.

The group discussed the revised proposal from Sebago for remediation options for Factory and Cold Storage roads in Port Clyde. Adjustments had been made based on discussion of the site plans with Carl and Susy and the input from the whole committee on the text of the proposal. The group decided that the next step is to post the proposal and then to meet with the public to hear the response to the options for each road. We will aim for a mid-June date for that meeting. Aaron is contacting Bina at FB Environmental to co-ordinate with the town to set things up. We discussed the deadline for the grant funded work and Shane offered to help if an extension is required. (Found out later that the deadline is November 1, 2026.)

We reviewed the minutes from the March meeting and were unable to approve them as people who had attended the March meeting were not at the April meeting.

Carl suggested that at our next meeting we should have a discussion regarding the use of 14.6 feet of storm rise vs. 13.6 feet. We also discussed a possible grant for remediation design for Drift Inn Road. We will need to determine all of the property rights adjacent to this road prior to applying for a grant. John Falla may have relevant history with this. Susy will discuss next steps for this with Brandon.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday, May 6 at 5pm in the downstairs meeting room.
