Community In Acts Update

Galatians 6:9 (NIV)" Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up."

Finishing is harder than starting. The excitement of a new project fades, the work gets repetitive, and the last stretch tests our endurance. Paul reminds us that the harvest comes "at the proper time," not on our schedule. We are close to the finish line on much of the construction, and the call this week is the same one for every believer: keep going, do the work well, and trust God with the result.

This Week at the Seminary

Marjory Borden is coming from Puebla to teach our students. She is originally from Canada, and she will teach them how to write papers and read at a university level. Marjory lives in Puebla and is a widow. Her husband served as the legal representative for our group of churches. She comes with tons of experience, faith and knowledge. We are excited to have her with us this week.

Construction

The masons will finish their work this week, and we are excited to be closing the concrete section of the project. The balconies are being finished, and we just poured the floor for the pig pen. All of the flooring is done, and it only needs to be acid cleaned this week.

The solar panel company could not come last week, but they will be here on Tuesday and should finish that part of the project. We are down to just three missing windows. I am not sure we will get them this week, but being this close is a real plus.

The last legal piece is to get what is called the licencia de terminación. With this document the construction comes to a legal end and we will begin to pay taxes on the new construction. Thankfully, a contractor named Pedro, from a nearby town, has offered to help us with this process.

Furnishing

We will begin a new phase of furnishing. We have enough right now to begin with the office. So our focus will be on the dorms. Dressers, wardrobes, chairs, couches, end tables, desks lamps, etc.

Prayer Requests:

1. Please pray that the solar panel installation is completed on Tuesday.
2. Please pray that the masons finish well and the floors get cleaned this week.
3. Please pray for our students as they learn to write and read at a university level under Marjory Borden.
4. Please pray for the funds we need to raise to furnish the building.
