Job 1:21-22 “and said:“Naked I came from my mother’s womb,and naked I will depart. The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away;may the name of the LORD be praised.” 22 In all this, Job did not sin by charging God with wrongdoing.”

Job endured a series of devastating losses in a very short period of time. His possessions were taken away, his children were lost, his servants were killed, and destruction came upon what he had spent a lifetime building. Yet in the midst of overwhelming sorrow, Job responded with worship rather than accusation. He recognized that God is sovereign over every circumstance and that whatever God allows is within His perfect wisdom and authority.

What is especially remarkable is that Job refused to charge God with wrongdoing. He did not accuse God of being malicious or unjust. Instead, he humbled himself before the Lord and acknowledged God's right to give and God's right to take away. Job's example reminds us that our faith is not measured by how we respond when everything is going well, but by how we respond when we cannot yet see God's purpose.

As we continue moving forward with the ministry and seminary, we are reminded that every blessing comes from God's hand, and every challenge is an opportunity to trust Him more deeply. We pray that, like Job, we would honor the Lord regardless of circumstances and remain faithful as we await His provision and direction.

Ministry Update

This week we are excited to welcome a longtime friend and supporter who will be visiting us along with his grandson. His grandson believes the Lord may be calling him into missions in Latin America and desires to spend a year learning Spanish while seeking greater clarity regarding God's calling on his life. We are thankful for the opportunity to invest in and encourage this young man as he seeks the Lord's direction.

At the seminary, several important decisions must be made in the coming days. We are approaching the final stages of preparation, but there is still much to accomplish. Decisions regarding solar panels, generators, flooring, doors, and other essential infrastructure must be made carefully and prayerfully. The timeline is becoming increasingly urgent as we move toward opening the seminary, and we are trusting God to provide wisdom and resources for every step.

While there is still much work ahead, we continue to see God's hand at work and remain confident that He will provide exactly what is needed in His perfect timing.

Prayer Requests

1. Please pray for wisdom as we determine how to best allocate the remaining funds for the seminary project.
2. Please pray that we make the right decision regarding the solar panel companies and energy system installation.
3. Please pray for the remaining funding needed to complete the project.
4. Please pray for the potential group of 20 students expected to arrive on August 31, that God would prepare their hearts and provide for every aspect of their training.
