Community In Acts

Phil 3:7-8 "But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord..."

As we serve here in Mexico, this passage continually reminds us why we labor. Buildings, projects, equipment, and programs are important tools, but they are not the ultimate goal. Our greatest desire is that men and women come to know Christ and grow in their relationship with Him. Every hour of labor, every dollar invested, and every sacrifice made is worthwhile when it helps advance the gospel and prepare future servants of the Lord.

Ministry Update

I had the privilege of presenting Emerald Coast Seminary during the graduation banquet at Puebla Bible Seminary this past Friday evening. The presentation was very well received, and afterward several believers approached me and offered to come to the property and assist with various construction projects. It was encouraging to see such interest and support for the ministry.

Today marks our 41st wedding anniversary! I am incredibly blessed to have such a wonderful and godly wife serving alongside me as we seek to accomplish God's will through this ministry. Sandy has made my ministry far more effective, enjoyable, and organized than it would otherwise be. I am deeply grateful for her faithful partnership and for the decades we have spent serving the Lord together.

Projects

The windows did not arrive at the property last week as anticipated. Prayerfully, they will be delivered and installation will begin this week. All of the headers on the second floor have been completed, and this week, we will begin work on the first floor.

We need to make a final decision regarding a solar energy provider for the property. In addition, I will be purchasing the flooring materials and interior doors so that we can continue moving the project forward.

Prayer Requests

1. Pray for wisdom and strength as we continue the construction and development projects.
2. Pray for the students and future students who will be trained for ministry.
3. Pray that the Lord will continue to provide the necessary resources to complete the work before us.
4. Pray for safety for all those serving and working on the property.
