PREPARING FOR THE SEASON

Please work in the coming weeks to get yourself in shape for the season. Find time to do some conditioning and stretching, to make the transition to the pre-season easier for you. The less time we have to spend conditioning will allow us more time to work on necessary skills.

Remember there does not have to be any type of organized get together for you to work out. A couple of teammates can get together and work on things just as easily. Show some leadership, and be the one that gets things going.
