AR Deadline Update

February 3, 2026

Accelerated Reader (AR) Update

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Due to school closures last week caused by icy road conditions, the AR deadline originally set for Tuesday, February 3rd, has been extended.

New AR Mid-Point Deadline: Thursday, Feb. 12th, at 1:30 pm.

- For Classroom AR Parties: Students must have half of the required points for their grade level. Your child's teacher should have communicated the number of points required for this grading period with you and your child. The teachers remind students often, and I remind them each time they come to the library (at least once a week). The other half of their required points must be achieved by the already established date.
- For AR Reward Trip: Students must have all required points by the new mid-point date and then earn that many points again by the end of the grading period's established deadline. If you are unsure of this date, please check with your child's reading teacher, look at the weekly newsletter, or check your child's planner.

New Testing Limit for This Week Only:

📚 This week only: Students may take up to 5 AR tests per day.
Next week: Back to a limit of only 3 AR tests per day.

Testing Guidelines:

- Grades 2–4: Tests must be taken at school during school hours.
- Kindergarten & 1st Grade: Tests may be taken at home.

Thank you for your continued support of reading at home!
