School Enrollment

This is the number of students enrolled at your school, based on information your AP Coordinator entered into the College Board's AP system. The AP Coordinator should check this information at the beginning of each school year to make sure it is accurate.

College Culture

This measures the percentage of graduating seniors who took at least one AP exam during high school, regardless of their score.

- Each student counts only once, even if they took multiple AP exams.
- The goal is to recognize schools where students have opportunities and encouragement to participate in AP courses and exams.

College Credit

This measures the percentage of graduating seniors who earned a score of 3 or higher on at least one AP exam during high school.

- Each student counts only once, even if they earned a 3+ on multiple AP exams.
- The goal is to recognize students who demonstrated college-level achievement through AP exams.

College Optimization

This measures the percentage of graduating seniors who took at least 5 AP exams during high school, including at least one AP exam in 9th or 10th grade.

- A student must have taken 5 or more AP exams to count.
- At least one of those exams must have been taken in 9th or 10th grade.
- Only the first 5 AP exams count toward this measure.
- Taking more than 5 AP exams does not increase a student's contribution to this indicator.
- The idea is to recognize schools that encourage students to start AP courses earlier rather than taking a very large number of AP courses during junior and senior year.
