Floodwood School District Construction Continues with Visible Progress

Floodwood, MN – Summer construction continues to make steady progress at the Floodwood School District, as crews advance the facility improvement projects. The work remains focused on improving the school's heating, ventilation, electrical, plumbing, and roofing systems, along with planned site and parking lot improvements, helping ensure the school continues to provide a safe, efficient, and well-maintained learning environment for students and staff.

Since construction began earlier this summer, the majority of the demolition work has been completed, allowing contractors to move into the next phase of the project. Mechanical and electrical crews are installing new building systems throughout the facility. HVAC crews are installing vent fans and variable air volume (VAV) units, while electrical work associated with the project is nearing completion.

Ceiling grid installation has begun, with ceiling panels and other interior finishing work anticipated later this month. New boilers have been delivered to the school in preparation for installation, and roofing work is expected to begin later this month.

As interior spaces continue to transition into the next phase of construction, District maintenance staff are also working on painting walls and waxing floors throughout the building.

Overall, the project continues to make good progress, with the District and project team remaining focused on maintaining the construction schedule while completing improvements that will serve students, staff, and the community for years to come. The District appreciates the community's cooperation as construction continues. While the playground and athletic fields remain open for public use, community members have done an excellent job staying clear of construction areas, allowing crews to work safely and efficiently around the building.

District staff continue to work remotely and remain unavailable at the district building through August 30 while construction is underway. Any needs during the summer months should be emailed to attendance@isd698.org, and a member of the office team will respond as soon as they are able. Filing for School Board candidacy and enrollment requests or questions can be directed to Ashley Engh at aengh@isd698.org.

The Floodwood School District remains committed to keeping the community informed as construction progresses and looks forward to sharing additional updates as visible improvements continue throughout the summer months.
