Good morning! Today is Tuesday, November 3rd, it is a Day 2 schedule.
Please stand and join me for the Pledge of Allegiance
	I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all. Please be seated.
Positive Thought November
	Each day this month, we're going to give you something to think about to bring positivie thoughts your way. Here is the first thought to consider: What are three things you are grateful for today?
DEAR
	Speaking of being grateful, I am grateful for the tremendous effort going into your reading stamina and focus in DEAR. Remember, DEAR is in Science/Social Studies/Stem this week, so remember those books! we're always in search of classes that earn 100% locked in status. Let's go! Something else I am grateful for are the many of you who completed the exit ticket yesterday in advisory with truly thoughtful responses. Thank you for recognizing your areas of strength and for recognizing where their is room for improvement. The most common areas for improvement according to your responses on the form were volume in the hallway, punctuality, and academic performance, BUT there were many of you that reported you have those areas dialed in. It sounds like we could really help each other out as a community, so look to your peers who are finding success, and keep your goals in mind as you go through your day today
Hallway expectations
	Speaking of goals: Yesterday, Mission Hush ended without a secret code! The hallways never reached the required level of quiet—even after a reminder during advisory. As a result, the code remained classified, and no Code Catcher could be selected to win a prize. Today, we have a fresh opportunity to crack the case! Keep those voices low, those ears open, and those detective skills sharp.
