

Daily Announcements
Good morning! Today is Wednesday, October 14th and it is a Day 1 schedule.
Please stand and join me for the Pledge of Allegiance
	I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all. Please be seated.
DEAR
	Holy Focus, Batman! Yesterday's DEAR check was during 1st period, and in Mrs. Degrandt's sample, 2 -- yes only TWO students were drifters or not engaged in reading out of the 73 students observed. That is outstanding, Panthers!
Hallway expectations
	(Mission Impossible theme song) Agents, listen up! We have our first successful code catcher! Congratulations to Max Wiedenfeld, our first agent to know the super secret code word! Other students were intercepted by our secret agents but came up empty-handed! Were the halls too noisy to hear the announcement, or were those ears off duty? Agents, remember: listening lapses and loud halls can blow a mission! Here's a reminder of how Mission Code Catcher works: During passing time, a secret code word will be announced. Your mission? Hear it. Hold it. Hush! So that means Listen carefully, lock the word into your memory, and stay alert. Our undercover agents will be canvassing the hallways, asking random students if they know the secret code. If you can deliver the correct code word, you could score a prize! But remember, agents, Operation HUSH has a bigger mission: to create hallways that are quiet, calm, and welcoming for everyone. That means keeping voices low, respecting others, and making our school a place where everyone feels comfortable. So, perk up those ears, keep those voices down, and stay sharp! THE QUESTION IS: Will our hallways be hush enough for YOU to crack the code?

A team player of the game: Aliya Pippenger for her serves under pressure! B team player of the game: Arianna Listle for her serves over the net! Keep working hard ladies!
	Our 8th grade A and B teams wrapped up their last away game last night, fighting hard and cheering loud! Unfortunately, the wins weren't in the cards this time as both teams faced some tough serving and had to battle through some challenges. But they never gave up, and that effort matters! We'll keep working hard, building confidence, and getting ready for our final games this Thursday and next Tuesday. Let's finish the season strong! Player of the games Lexie Bocker and Genevieve Giannetto
