Investigating LIGHT at Jackson Elementary School

Students in Ms. Laurent's science classes at Jackson Elementary School used a light box investigation model to learn about light reflection and how our eyes see the world around us. Students turned simple cardboard boxes, mirror film, a flashlight, and rubber ducks into a two-way mirror. JES scientists are mastering standards while seeing the magic in science!

Spotlight On Our School Resource Officers

We are grateful for our ongoing partnership with local law enforcement through our School Resource Officer program. From Officer Bailey passing out afternoon snacks while conducting a campus-wide safety check at East Feliciana STEAM Academy to Officer Barrow taking a moment with students at Slaughter Elementary School to play a game of Candyland in the library, our School Resource Officers help keep our campuses safe, provide valuable resources to our school staff, and build positive relationships with students. Our SROs are an essential part of our strategy to ensure our students are safe and empowered!

Magical Moments of Learning ✨

Clinton Elementary School

1st graders at CES are discovering numbers that make 10 when added to a given number from 1-9 and representing their thinking with a drawing or equation and applying these skills to real-world problems!

Jackson Elementary School

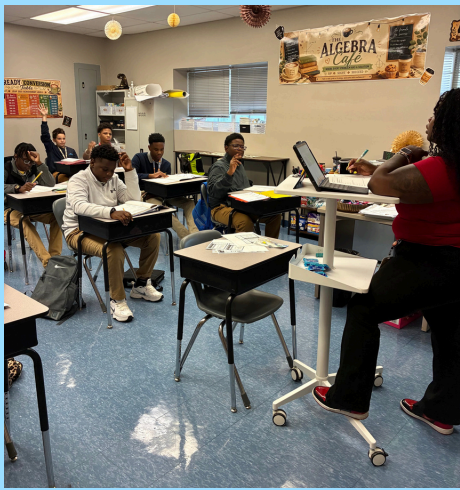

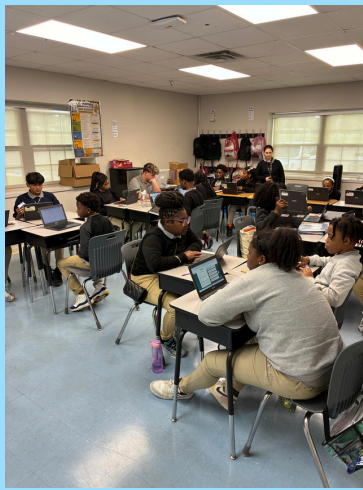

JES kindergarten students in Mr. Winston's class are hard at work mastering foundational math skills like counting and number formation. Our teachers are focused on providing targeted instruction to help each of our learners succeed!

Slaughter Elementary School

At left, Pre-K students at SES explore the joy of literacy in their cozy classroom reading corner. At left, SES paraeducator Ms. Chase works individually with a sixth grade student. Across all of our schools and all of our classrooms in East Feliciana Public Schools, providing students with opportunities to take ownership of their learning and the individual and small group support necessary to achieve their goals are key components of the daily learning process.

East Feliciana STEAM Academy

At EF STEAM, students are strengthening the mind and the body! From goal-setting in Algebra I, to a diagnostic test in 7th grade English language arts, to a physical fitness test in 6th grade PE, students are setting the baseline so they can track their progress throughout the year!

East Feliciana Middle School

Beginning band students at EFMS are learning about the fundamentals of sound production. As we honor our community's legacy of excellence, arts education is a key part of our learning programs in East Feliciana Public Schools.

East Feliciana High School

EFHS students are setting the standard by being engaged and ready to learn. Through varied learning opportunities and targeted teacher support, students are actively building the skills, confidence, and independence needed to demonstrate Excellence Every Day!

East Feliciana Enrichment Academy

LaBria Scott, a sophomore at EFEA, expands her academic opportunities through participation in a dual enrollment course at Baton Rouge Community College.
