Sportsmanship Creed

Southwest High School reminds you to speak out for sportsmanship on the court and in the stands. We remind you that interscholastic events are an extension of the classroom, and that lessons are best learned when proper respect is accorded to all. Your passion and support of your team is needed and admired. But so is your self-control. Yelling, screaming, and berating the officials humiliates your child, annoys those sitting around you, embarrasses your school and is the #1 reason there is a shortage of high school officials.

Emma was asked what her favorite highschool volleyball memory was and she said "When I started serving on Varsity! Also, when I passed up a ball with one arm and got it up pretty high, and straight at that fact. Passing with one arm can be difficult and unpredictable, so I was very proud when I got it up for the hitters to hit it over."

I would like to thank my parents for helping me continue going through my high school journey and my volleyball seasons. I would like to thank Mrs. Jones for offering me advice that I can apply to my everyday life and that I can carry with me beyond graduation. I would like to thank my coaches for helping me grow in my knowledge of volleyball and for encouraging me to keep trying no matter what. I want to thank my siblings for being my little cheerleaders, encouraging every play I have to make. I also want to thank every person who has supported me through every decision, every touch of volleyball, and anything else, thank you. Lastly, I want to thank my best friend, Missy, for holding me accountable and for sharing her love of volleyball with me throughout our middle school and high school years.

EMMA OUTHOUSE #16

"Emma not only takes care of her teammates, she also takes care of me. (haha) If we gave an award for "Player with the Most Dives," she would win hands down. She is the physical definition of sacrifice for us. Emma has grown her game over the years, and worked hard to improve every time she stepped on the court."

Addison was asked one thing she will miss about highschool volleyball is and she said “I obviously will miss all the girls and the sense of togetherness,they were like a second family, But I will mostly miss our late night runs to McDonalds, we were always laughing together to the point where we were falling over. Those late nights were never boring.“

Acknowledgments

I would like to acknowledge and thank my parents and Johnny as well. Thank you for always supporting me and always being at my games cheering me on. It always made me happy to look at the stands and see you guys smiling at me and making sure I was okay. Just a general thank you for everything. I would also like to say a big thank you to Olivia Hnem. This year we became closer as friends both on and off the court. She is my biggest hype woman, always there to talk to me when I was stressed in a game. She hyped me up after points and calmed me down after mistakes; and before EVERY serve she was there to do our handshake and tell me to breathe. So a big thank you to Hnemy.

Addison Parker #17

“Addie has been a welcome addition to Southwest Volleyball. Even though she hasn't gotten to go through the program for all 4 years, she's jumped in and contributed. I appreciate her willingness to continue to learn and buy into the program. We'll always think of her as a Lady Trojan.” - Coach Henry

SENIORS

Marissa was asked if she had any advice to underclassmen and she said "My advice in life is to not care what other people think and be yourself because if others can't get to you then you'll be way more successful. My advice volleyball wise is to be confident going into every game no matter who your playing because I feel like you play the way you think so if your thinking your gonna do bad and lose then that's what will happen so be confident but not cocky."

I want to thank my parents for supporting me over the years not just with school volleyball but also with club volleyball. I know this sport has been so expensive with traveling and everything especially trying to get recruited for this sport, but I promise it will all be worth it in the end so thank you! I also want to thank Olivia Hnem and Laura Jean for being the best teammates a girl could ask for. For always supporting me through every game and practice and picking me up when I'm down. You guys are amazing and I'll forever be grateful.

Marissa Freeman #18

"Missy has been a lot of fun to coach, but also to watch grow as a player and as a person. She is a good player, but she's also grown into a good teammate. Missy lives and breathes volleyball, but has taken the lessons she's learned there and applied them to LIFE. I look forward to seeing her play on the next level." - Coach Henry
