

FEBRUARY 5, 2026

PRINCIPAL'S CORNER

We have one more week to go before vacation. This week has been busy at the school and next week promises more of the same. Tuesday is anticipated to be our 100th day of school already barring any more snow days. Speaking of snow days, have you downloaded the NBSU App yet? It allows direct notification along with the ability to get notifications from the classroom teacher. You can get it here for free on Google Play or Apple App Store.

We will start next week with very cold temperatures but it is supposed to warm as the week progresses. Please send your children to school prepared for any kind of weather. Also, we appreciate whatever you can do to have your children here at school by 8:15am. We start our day promptly at 8:25am and those that arrive around 8:25am miss out on important socialization with friends, have to rush to get and eat breakfast and often miss out on the beginning of the morning classroom routines.

It has been reported by our bus driver that several cars have passed a bus in the parking lot while the red flashing lights were on and students were loading. This is not only unsafe but also against the law. For those who pick up their child in the car line, please help us keep all students safe by double-checking before pulling away to see whether a bus has its red flashing lights on. We appreciate your cooperation and partnership in keeping our students safe.
