"Remember, officers and soldiers, that you are freemen, fighting for the blessings of liberty."

- Gen. George Washington

Dedication

Dedicated to the patriots who forged our nation and the flame of freedom that sustains it.

Foreword

This year we celebrate our nation's 250th anniversary. We stand with grateful hearts as proud citizens of the greatest nation on earth. We enjoy "liberty and justice for all" in a way unmatched in history.

In recognition of this important celebration, we at the Carl I. Bergerson Middle School, have worked this school year trying to help preserve this significant milestone.

We researched each of the Revolutionary War soldiers buried in Orleans County. In all, we found 67 proven burials. It is likely that many others are buried here, but cannot be proven. Men like Phinias Rice, John Dodge, and Ebenezer Hart fill our local resting places as past soldiers of patriotic light. Our May 16 community event at Pierce-Smith Pioneer Cemetery highlighted these findings.

Orleans County has over 80 cemeteries; most of them considered "closed," so finding these veterans was often difficult. We could not find them all, but had fun researching and locating them in oftentimes secluded areas. Ultimately, we discovered that over 30 cemeteries had Revolutionary War veterans.

Thank you to all the town and county officials, highway superintendents, Orleans Hub for its media coverage, numerous historians, DAR and SAR representatives, cemetery supervisors, and family descendants for their invaluable help.

Special thanks to Patrice Birner and the Orleans County DAR for their immeasurable help; especially for valuable research assistance, funding for this booklet, and the purchase of 13 bronze Revolutionary War flag markers for those veterans who had none. Likewise, the Rochester Area SAR spent a full day in our Albion Middle School giving presentations; dressed in full-era military apparel and displaying numerous artifacts and weaponry.

We also received a new Revolutionary War headstone from the Veterans Administration in Washington, D.C. for veteran Lott Smith at the East Barre Cemetery. This replaces a broken one. Another new headstone in Medina is planned for this fall.

Likewise, we applied for, received, and installed four historic roadside markers from the Pomeroy Foundation. In addition, fellow middle school students helped repaint four old historic markers in Orleans County.

We learned much from studying our visionary forefathers and hope to carry on their patriotic spirit.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR SOLDIERS WHO LIVED IN ORLEANS COUNTY, BUT NOT PROVEN TO BE BURIED THERE

Government military service and pension records, historical books, DAR/SAR claims, newspaper accounts, and genealogies show the following Revolutionary War soldiers lived in Orleans County for a portion of their lives, oftentimes following their children west with bounty land warrants, but have no definitive confirmation as being buried there. As such, we recognize them, buried in Orleans County or not, for their military service and the part they played in our nation's and county's early history.

Revolutionary War Timeline (1754-1783)

The American Revolutionary War (April 19, 1775 – September 3, 1783), also known as the War of Independence, was the armed conflict that comprised the final eight years of the broader American Revolution, in which American Patriot forces organized as the Continental Army and commanded by George Washington defeated the British Army.

The conflict was fought in North America, the Caribbean, and the Atlantic Ocean. The outcome seemed uncertain for most of the war, but Washington and the Continental Army's decisive victory in the Siege of Yorktown in 1781 led King George III and the Kingdom of Great Britain to negotiate an end to the war. In 1783, in the Treaty of Paris, the British monarchy acknowledged the independence of the Thirteen Colonies, leading to the establishment of the United States as an independent (1820) and sovereign nation.

Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown by John Trumball

Support for independence was boosted by Thomas Paine's pamphlet Common Sense, which was published on January 10, 1776, and argued for American self-government. To draft the Declaration of Independence, the Second Continental Congress appointed the Committee of Five: Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, and Robert Livingston. The declaration was written almost exclusively by Jefferson.

Identifying inhabitants of the Thirteen Colonies as "one people," the declaration simultaneously dissolved political links with Britain, while including a long list of alleged violations of "English rights" committed by George III. This is also one of the first times that the colonies were referred to as "United States", rather than the more common United Colonies. On July 2, Congress voted for independence and published the declaration on July 4, 1776.
