From the Board of Education

Welcome Back from the Board of Education

WELCOME to the 2022-2023 school year! We look forward to seeing our campus buzzing with activity as we continue to navigate our new “normal.”

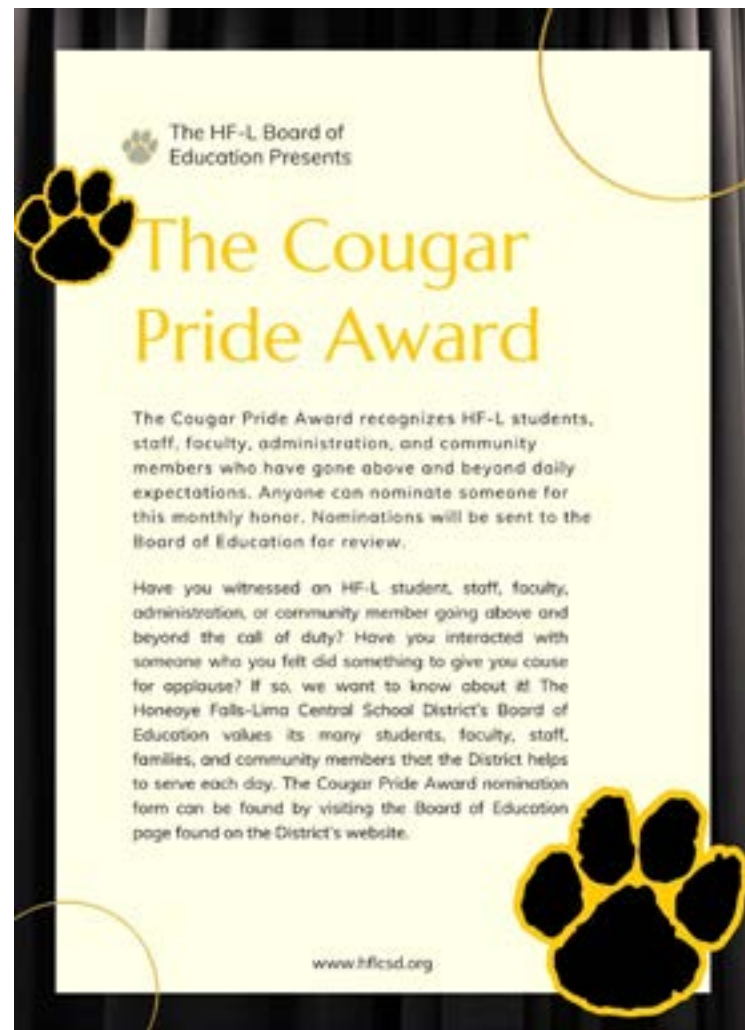

As we embark on this school year, we will continue to put the needs of our students first by continuing to fund programs to recover learning loss, enhancing our high school course offerings, partnering with our teachers and staff to make learning fun, and maintaining our facilities!

One of our board goals is to develop engaging and strong relationships with all stakeholders. This means all of you! Please look for us around campus and say hello.

We are always looking for volunteers to serve on the Program Budget Advisory Council (PBAC). This committee provides feedback to the board and administration regarding budget and programming. It's a great opportunity to learn more about the district and provide input. If this interests you, please reach out to a board member for more information, visit us at a building Open House this fall, or contact Caitlin Millard at caitlin.millard@hflcsd.org to let her know your interest.

We hope the start of your school year is a smooth one.

TOGETHER WE ARE HF-L!

Introducing the 2022 Alumni Hall of Fame Inductees

Walford E. "Wally" Anderson, Jr.
Honeoye Falls High School
Class of 1963

Anderson had an enthusiasm for life that showed on his face, in his laugh and honestly, even in the way he walked. School and family farming experiences framed his focus on a path to serve others. Wherever he was, whatever he was doing, his actions were directed in service to others. Moments with Anderson are treasured memories for family, friends, co-workers, patients and fellow Veterans.

The United States Marine Corps profoundly influenced Anderson. The USMC "Core Values" of honor, courage and commitment were evident as he honored all veterans through his active memberships and leadership roles with the Marine Corps League, the American Legion, Honor Flight Rochester and as a volunteer with the Veteran's Administration.

Across his 20-year career as a Supervisor with Southco, and then as a Certified Nursing Assistant and Geriatric Care Specialist at Thompson Health, Anderson also served the community as a North Bloomfield Cemetery Trustee, North Bloomfield Association member and Deacon with the West Bloomfield Congregational Church. According to his children, he was ever-present for their school activities and sports events. His energy was infectious. His caring nature and professional skills were valued and recognized in honors and awards from colleagues, professional organizations, and civic associations. He received "Certificates of Excellence," "Special Recognition for Volunteer Service," and the coveted "Associate of the Year" designation from Thompson Health in 2003. Perhaps most special is, "The Wally Anderson Community Spirit Award" established by his family and the Marine Corps League in 2021 to honor an HF-L graduate "whose character, diligence and interest in community will be an asset in their chosen field and to their future community."

Anderson met every challenge as an opportunity to learn, and enhance his capacity to help others. He advocated for fellow Veterans at Southco and secured their release to participate in ceremonial activities on Veteran's Day and in the Manor School Flag Day Program. He led the member resolve to revitalize American Legion Post 664 and continue their leadership role with Veteran Holidays, Veteran Honor Guards at Funerals and Color Guards to lead parades. He solicited and contributed to community food drives. He was a coordinator for the local Toys for Tots campaign. At Thompson Health's M.M. Ewing Continuing Care Center, he and his brother "Skip" planned an annual Veteran's Day program for Veteran residents who were unable to leave the facility to participate in community events. And, as a mentor he encouraged professional growth, skills training and personal investment in community.

Anderson and his wife Linda were blessed with 53 years of marriage, two sons, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren to hug and celebrate. He was humble of heart, devoted to family and a builder of "community" in every endeavor. His life defines good neighbor, best friend and grateful citizen. His legacy is rooted in examples of service that uplift and respect the dignity of every person.

Michael Battle
Honeoye Falls-Lima High School
Class of 1996

Mike Battle has the soul of a true artist. This was evidenced throughout his high school years when he co-designed and painted the first two murals on campus. He designed the cover of the 1994 class yearbook. He performed in the school productions of Damn Yankees and Oklahoma while creating the artwork used for the shows' programs, T-shirts, and murals that are still on display in the chorus room. He designed numerous T-shirts, hats, and bulletin banners for the Varsity Cross-Country and Track teams where he also played an impactful role.

Another quality that was evident during Battle's high school years was his concern for others. He was a mentor with the Big Brother/Big Sister program, and volunteer with Habitat for Humanity and at St. Joseph's Soup Kitchen. After high school, Battle went on to Rochester Institute of Technology's School of Film and Animation. Upon graduating, he moved to Los Angeles and had a short stint working on King of the Hill, followed by a long and successful career with The Simpsons, one of the most iconic animated series ever created.

Battle exemplifies the gift of having roots and wings. In California, Battle's concern for others showed in his offering of artwork to the community auctions for Home Again Los Angeles, a charity that benefits the homeless. In New York, he created the website of the family business, Battle Construction Company, and continues to provide artwork for his aunt's interior design business, Design Associates. Battle hasn't forgotten his roots either, returning often to HF-L to speak to the art classes about his animation industry experience and has annually hosted R.I.T. animation students visiting Los Angeles. His niece, Jailyn Clark, credits her Uncle Mike with nurturing her own interest in art since she was very young, culminating in a two-week trip to L.A. where he took her to big name animation studios to especially meet fellow women working in the field. His positive influence and continued support makes Battle a role model for Jailyn.

Battle's deep roots and his limitless creativity have led him to be a preservationist. He established Flour City Post, where he digitally-restores and reprints vintage images of the Greater Rochester area, including Honeoye Falls. He also makes exquisitely-detailed scale models of vintage neon signs from Rochester and Burbank, where he currently resides. He specifically created these displays as the table centerpieces for his wedding reception when he married photography teacher, Kelly Brooks in 2021.

According to Matthew Nastuk, Simpsons director, friend and professional colleague, "Mike has always been devoted to his family, home, and community – a caring, encouraging, people-person; always making it his priority to give an ear or pitch in to help anyone with any task or project." Art changes people's lives and so does Mike Battle.

Introducing the 2022 Alumni Hall of Fame Inductees

Deborah Gonyea Smith
Honeoye Falls-Lima High School
Class of 1973

Deborah Gonyea graduated from Honeoye Falls-Lima High School in 1973. She was part of the first class of students who attended all four years of high school as part of the new, merged school district. It was a pivotal time for the community and Gonyea embraced the change and helped bring her classmates together.

Now, over 50 years hence, Gonyea Smith continues to draw folks together and has proven herself to be an amazing community contributor and prolific chronicler of history.

Gonyea Smith grew up on Michigan Avenue in Lima. She was a member of the last class to attend grades K-8 at the Lima Free School. Her high school years were filled with cheerleading, soccer, field hockey, pep club, chorus, band, Leadership Club, and Junior League. She attended MCC and graduated from SUNY Plattsburgh with High Honors.

Her first teaching job was at Perry Elementary School, where she was a newspaper advisor, cheerleading advisor, and softball coach. In 1981, Gonyea Smith moved to Virginia Beach where she had a variety of teaching roles, leadership positions, and distinctions, including: Black History Month Coordinator; Elementary Math Teacher of the Year; At Risk Planning Committee Chairperson; Elementary Mentor Program Chairman; Reading Teacher of the Year; and member of the Virginia Beach Citywide Science Curriculum Committee.

Gonyea Smith returned to the region in 2013 and together with her husband, Tim Smith, has become a prolific contributor to the Mendon-Honeoye Falls-Lima Sentinel. Each week, they contribute at least two articles to the paper. Their writings touch on history, business, and community connection. In addition, they have published four books on a wide range of subjects.

In addition, Gonyea Smith finds time to assist in a variety of community initiatives, including supporting the Section V Unified Basketball Initiative; Honeoye Falls-Mendon Historical Society Committee Member; Elim Bible Institute and College writer; Mendon Business Association writer and contributor; Honeoye Falls Fire Department Parade of Lights volunteer; and volunteer writing for multiple charitable organizations.

Gonyea Smith's High School Cheerleading Advisor, Carol Vahue, writes, "Debbie's contributions to our community support the true meaning of this committee to bring back knowledge and support for the school and the community."

She is married to Tim Smith and stepmother of Skyler and Savanna and mother of Cory and Sarah.

Karen Krupp-Tremer
Lima High School
Class of 1969

Karen Krupp-Tremer is both a right and left-brain standout with a huge and compassionate heart. At an early age, Krupp-Tremer stepped up to help care for her siblings. A standout on the cheerleading team in high school, she harnessed her compassion and enthusiasm to do great things over her lifetime.

After graduating from high school, Krupp-Tremer went on to SUNY Oneonta to earn a BA in Psychology. Following that, she worked in retail management, then with various human services agencies. She returned to college while continuing to work full time, graduated with a 4.0 GPA, receiving a MS in Public Administration from SUNY Brockport. A lifelong "learner", she continues to take and teach classes in a wide range of topics.

For the past 20 plus years, Krupp-Tremer has led Chances and Changes, Inc., a non-profit domestic violence and housing/homeless support agency in Livingston County operating 24/7 that includes 24/7 DV Hotline coverage. This organization reaches 85-100 families at any given time and has grown to operate with well over a million-dollar budget. During this timeframe, she also taught various Human Services courses for 15 years for Genesee Community College as an Adjunct Professor.

Her daughter-in-law, Megan (Alexander) Tremer, writes, "As a Director, Karen is extremely dedicated and committed to the work, often picking up night and holiday shifts to ensure 24x7 coverage. Though eligible for retirement, she has put off her own retirement until key staffing changes can be made to ensure continuity of the institution."

In addition to her leadership, Krupp-Tremer is also an accomplished artist who, in her free time, pursues her passion for art in various mediums, both in 2D and 3D forms. She exhibits her arts at shows, including the Clothesline Festival and has even earned "Merit Award Winner" status. She was also involved in various projects including a restoration project to replicate 6-foot-tall x 164 linear feet of canvas murals depicting Mother Goose Fairy Tale scenes housed in the former "Eastman Children's Dental Dispensary", now Eastman Gardens. This project included several restoration experts and was recognized for excellence by the Preservation League of New York and at the local level with the Barber Conable Award for Historic Restoration. She creates and sells her works and restored antiques through High Country Homestead, a business venture she founded 35 years ago.

Krupp-Tremer married her high school sweetheart, Tom Tremer, and they raised their children, Sara and Zach, and many beloved animals. She has cared for her elderly extended family in Lima and restored and managed their large and beautiful home and gardens in Lima. She is an adored grandmother and cherished friend, too.

Introducing the 2022 Alumni Hall of Fame Inductees

Dana Lougher Doyle
Class of 1991

Judge Dana Lougher Doyle was involved in many things in her early years such as Girl Scouts, athletics, and music. She was a three sport varsity athlete, playing soccer and participating in both cross country and track. In addition to playing sports in high school, she went on to play soccer at SUNY Potsdam.

Lougher Doyle went to SUNY Potsdam to study art but in her first semester after taking one poli-sci class, her plans drastically changed. She switched majors and never looked back. When she finished at SUNY Potsdam in 1995, she entered Western New England University School of Law in Springfield, Massachusetts. Here she earned her Juris Doctor Degree (1998) and passed the bar shortly after. While in Law School, as a clinical student, she had the opportunity to work for Western Massachusetts Legal Services, providing legal representation to victims of domestic violence. This experience led to a lifelong commitment to public service.

In 1998, Lougher Doyle entered the Americorps Program where she provided legal services to indigent clients for two years. She worked with immigrants, victims of crimes, and families who often faced many other challenges, mentally, physically or with substance abuse. This was just the beginning of Lougher Doyle's many endeavors.

Lougher Doyle settled in Pittsfield, Massachusetts and started her family. She was recruited to work in a small private law firm in Pittsfield, Gobel & Hollister where she honed her skills as a litigation associate and trial attorney. After four years, she was recruited by another law firm, Cianflone & Cianflone. Lougher Doyle stayed there for seven years working in all aspects of civil litigation, including class action suits, federal cases, and jury trials in the Superior Court.

Lougher Doyle served on the local City Licensing Board, stayed active in her community and the local bar association. She worked with community agencies and programs she was passionate about. She served on the board and as President of the board for the Elizabeth Freeman Center in Pittsfield. This center provides support and shelter for victims of domestic and sexual violence. She became certified as a divorce mediator and a Guardian Ad Litem. From 2012-2017, Lougher Doyle started her own private practice centered around family law. She continued working as a GAL, a parenting coordinator, an attorney for children, and a divorce mediator. In 2017, she went back to work for Legal Aid, a place she held dear to heart, where she continued to advocate for those living at or below poverty who were victims of domestic violence. In 2019, she was elected President of the Berkshire Bar Association. In 2021, she was nominated by Massachusetts Governor Charles Baker for a judicial position. After appearing before the Governor's Council for a hearing, her nomination was approved. She is currently an Associate Justice of the Probate and Family Court in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Despite her prestigious title of Judge, her most cherished title is Mom, to her children, Peyton and Chloe.
