How to Forgive Someone Who Has Wronged You

Forgiveness can be challenging, especially when the offending party offers either an insincere apology or nothing at all. However, it's often the healthiest path forward.

A prominent model, put forth by psychologist Robert Enright, delineates four steps of forgiveness. The first is to uncover your anger by exploring how you've avoided or addressed the emotion. The second is to make the decision to forgive. Begin by acknowledging that ignoring or coping with the offense hasn't worked, and therefore forgiveness might provide a path forward.

Third, cultivate forgiveness by developing compassion for the offender. Reflect on whether the act was due to malicious intent or circumstances in the offender's life. Lastly, release the harmful emotions and reflect on how you may have grown from the experience and the act of forgiveness itself.

If you can translate/discuss this so your child can understand, this can go a long way at allowing peace to continue to be the prevalent condition at St. Robert CS there by allowing your child to focus on their lessons.

Dear Parent/Guardian:

School Year 2025-2026

To identify children with oral health problems, a screening program is offered by Toronto Public Health (TPH) to students in accordance with the Ontario Ministry of Health requirements for mandatory health programs. The screening is an assessment by an oral health staff member using a separate sterile mouth mirror for each child. The oral health staff member will assess the need for topical fluoride, scaling, sealant and any other obvious dental needs.

As a follow up to the screening, only parents whose children were screened will be notified and a note to that effect will be sent home with their child for your information and action. You may also receive a phone call from TPH dental staff to assist you in accessing care.

Please be advised that this screening assessment does not replace the dental examination done by a dentist.

The screening date for your child/ren's school has been scheduled for:

April13-23, 2026 (except Fridays)

If you do not wish your child/ren to be screened, please inform the school staff and the classroom teacher.

For additional information, please visit us at http://www.toronto.ca/health/dental/children_youth.htm or contact the oral health staff member on the phone number/email listed above.

Please note that all personal health information (PHI) collected during the screening process will be protected under the provincial Personal Health Information Protection Act (PHIPA).

Black History Month Celebration

On February 25th, the St. Robert school community gathered together in an assembly to honour 30 years of Black brilliance across generations. Aside from dynamic dance and song performances, the strong audience participation reverberated the dynamism inherent of Black communities. Many thanks to Ms. Magtibay who organized this joyous musical event featuring students from Grade 3 and 4 as well as the staff and students who helped with set-up and tech support.
