Staff Spotlights

Teacher - Ms. Suzanne Bingman (YEMS)

At YEMS, Ms. Bingman, our 4th grade math and science teacher, creates engaging, hands-on learning experiences that encourage critical thinking and connect lessons to real life. Inspired by her kind and patient third-grade teacher, Mrs. Bliss, she has spent nearly 30 years helping students enjoy learning. She is especially proud of her flexible seating options, which help students feel comfortable and focused. Her biggest advice to students is to always be kind because even small acts of kindness can make a difference. Outside of teaching, she dreams of opening her own bakery called Freshly Baked, where she could creatively decorate cakes and cupcakes. Ms. Bingman also goes above and beyond by supporting PBIS assemblies, PTO events, and other elementary school activities.

Teacher - Mrs. Christine Haslett (BWMS)

Mrs. Haslett provides rigorous, high-quality instruction, builds strong relationships with students, and demonstrates exceptional classroom management. She is a lifelong learner who continually improves her teaching through reflection and research. She enthusiastically participates in school activities, runs the spelling bee, and collaborates with colleagues. After leaving her engineering career to raise her two sons, Ryan and Tyler, Mrs. Haslett discovered her passion for teaching while substitute teaching and tutoring ELA at WAEC. With encouragement from Mrs. Rhonda Decker, she earned her teaching certification. She is proud of raising her kind and caring sons and making a lasting impact on students. Her advice is to always tell the truth, and outside of education, she would love to be a librarian or work in a bookstore because of her love of reading.

Administrator- Mr. Madigan (WAHS)

Matt is very personable, relatable, and engaging. He recently did an excellent job presenting the new reading initiative at Warren High School to the Board, clearly communicating the initiative and its importance. He is also responsive to requests and demonstrates a willingness to be helpful and collaborative. Matt's strong communication skills and approachable demeanor are valuable assets to the district.

Support Staff - Jenny Rose (SAEMS)

Jenny Rose is an amazing support staff member at SAEMS who is deticated to helping students and staff in any way she can. She is kind, patient, positve, and compassionate, making students feel heard, valued, and cared for. Jenny goes above and beyond her responcablities, willingly taking on different roles, adjusting her schedule, helping in various classrooms, and assisting with morning arrival. She communicates well with teachers and students, providing support to students struggling with emotions or behavior, and is always ready to step in wherever she is needed. Jenny's flexiblibty, dependability, and warm personality make her a wonderful team player and a valueable part of the school community. Her dedication and willingness to help make a meaningful difference in the lives of students and staff.
