The Nebraska Department of Education has released its annual AQuESTT (Accountability for a Quality Education System Today and Tomorrow) report. AQuESTT classifies schools into four categories from excellent to needs improvement. The AQuESTT system for classifications takes into many factors that include performance on statewide assessments, graduation rates, reduction in absenteeism, and progress for students learning English as a second language. Summerland Public School has been classified as an “EXCELLENT” district for the 2022-23 school year. Along with a district rating, the school is also broken down into elementary, middle school and high school. This rating period the elementary was rated as “great”, while the middle school and high school reached the “excellent” mark.

Some exciting trends and reasons for celebration in the report are as follows:

- Attendance rate increased 1% to 95%
- English Language Arts 60% of Summerland students were considered proficient in all grades
 - An increase of 17% from last year
- Mathematics 64% of the students were considered proficient for all grades assessed
 - An increase of 12% from last year
- All of this achievement while the student enrollment has increased by 36 students from last years assessment
