October's School Counseling Lesson Topic

This month, students will identify and practice taking ownership over their personal responsibility such as their own thoughts, feelings, and behaviors and how it impacts others.

Students will explore reframing their own thoughts, feelings, and behaviors from a passive role to an active role through story and activity in their first guidance lesson.

By reframing their personal responsibility, students will go from a feeling of helplessness to a sense of empowerment. Students will learn the personal power of creating meaningful steps in their lives by taking ownership and having the ability to change their responses.

The second guidance lesson will focus on the character word of the month as students celebrate Red Ribbon Week on Tuesday, October 27th through Friday, October 30th: "Take ownership of your choices. Be Drug Free."
