September's School Counseling Lesson Topic

September's word of the month is responsibility. Students will practice how to be responsible students in their world by completing tasks with good effort and being accountable for choices they make.

Pre-K - 1st grade students, students will identify and practice the look & listen technique when following directions and following through simple tasks to completion from a superhero story and scenario activity. The second counseling lesson will reinforce how to be a responsible student by exploring what responsibility looks like, sounds like, and feels like in their everyday life from a story and activity.

For 2nd - 4th grade students, students will identify what situations do & do not describe being responsible using scenario situations. The second counseling lesson will reinforce how to be a responsible student by exploring what responsibility looks like, sounds like, and feels like in their everyday life from a story and activity.
