Bri Bergstrom named MMEA High School Music Educator of the Year!

In her fifth year of teaching vocal music at Saint Peter High School and Saint Peter Middle School, Bri Berstrom has already left her mark on the choir programs at both schools, with large numbers of students signing up for her classes each year.

Her positive influence as a choir director and educator is quite obvious when you attend any of the choirs' public performances at the SPHS Performing Arts Center, and she recently received state-wide recognition for her efforts.

Bergstrom was named the Minnesota Music Educator Association's 2026 High School Music Educator of the Year. The University of St. Thomas alum (for both her undergraduate and master's degrees in vocal music education) previously taught in the Belle Plaine school system for nine years before coming to SPHS at the start of the 2021-22 school year.

The following is a Q&A profile of Bergstrom as she reflects on her time here at SPHS/SPMS, along with her career as a choir music teacher:

What inspired you to become a choir teacher? – I always wanted to be an educator, and the incredible music program at Owatonna High School just clearly made my path for me. I couldn't ever imagine doing anything else.

How does it feel to win this award? – I am incredibly grateful and honored. I definitely wouldn't have a job or this program without the students, so I feel this award really belongs to our program as a whole.

How have you enjoyed your time here at SPHS? – I love it here in St. Peter. The students and community have been so welcoming and supportive. I am constantly in awe at the talent of our singers and grateful for the community outreach and support.

What has it meant to you to see the SPHS Choir program boom in numbers since your first year? – I just really believe it's a testament to the students and the program they are creating – people want to be involved in our "choir family," and I love it. I am so, so proud.

Community Connections

Dr. Jon Graff, Superintendent of Saint Peter Public Schools

One of the things I value most about our school district is the strong sense of community that surrounds our schools. Great schools don't exist in isolation; they work in tandem with the community that they serve.

Every day, our staff works hard to build meaningful connections with students and families. Those relationships help create safe, welcoming environments where students feel known, supported, and inspired to learn. But the success of a school district is also built on strong connections with the broader community.

As superintendent, I believe it is important to listen, learn, and stay connected with the people we serve. Our community members bring valuable perspectives, ideas, and questions that help shape the future of our schools. Whether you are a parent, grandparent, business owner, retiree, or simply someone who cares about our community, your voice matters.

With that in mind, I'd like to invite you to join me for informal conversations at local coffee shops throughout the coming months. These gatherings are simply an opportunity to connect, no agenda, no presentations, just good conversation about our schools and our community.

If you have a question, an idea, or simply want to stop by and say hello, I hope you will consider joining me. I'm always grateful for the chance to hear from members of our community and learn more about what matters most to you.

Our schools are strongest when we work together, and those partnerships begin with conversation. I look forward to the opportunity of connecting with you soon!

NHS MEMBERS ASSIST WITH AUTHOR EVENT

Well-known children's fiction author Kate DeCamillo was the featured guest for a free public event at Saint Peter High School's Performing Arts Center on February 25, which drew a large audience. DiCamillo has published over 25 novels, including Because of Winn-Dixie, The Tiger Rising, The Tale of Despereaux, The Miraculous Journey of Edward Tulane, The Magician's Elephant, the Mercy Watson series, and Flora & Ulysses.

"An Evening with Kate DeCamillo" was a collaborative effort of the Saint Peter Public Library and Saint Peter Recreative and Leisure Services, and made possible by a grant from the Traverse des Sioux Library Cooperative, St. Peter Area Chamber Tourism Bureau, and the Friends of the Saint Peter Public Library. In addition to discussing her career as a writer and some of her works, she also hosted a free book signing.

BELLAS ENSEMBLE TAKES PART IN VOX LUCIA WORKSHOP AT GUSTAVUS

Saint Peter High School's Bellas treble ensemble participated in the Vox Lucia treble workshop on Monday, February 24, at Gustavus Adolphus College. Director Bri Bergstrom accompanied the Bellas to Gustavus for the event, which featured Dr. Jennaya Robison, artistic director of the National Lutheran Choir in Minneapolis.

Other high school ensembles attending the Vox Lucia event, in addition to SPHS, included those from Eagan, Owatonna, Chanhassen, Mounds View, and Milaca.

The Vox Lucia Vocal Festival for Leadership & Singing at Gustavus is a one-day event for high school soprano and alto singers to explore leadership through choral music. Featuring performances by the Lucia Singers and Kaleidoscope, the festival includes expert-led sessions on leadership, composing, and music, often featuring renowned artists-in-residence.

The event concluded with a late-afternoon concert at Christ Chapel which featured Gustavus's Lucia Singers (soprano/alto auditioned group), Kaleidoscope Acapella (soprano/alto acapella), and the Gustavus Choir (mixed auditioned group).

Thanks to Chelsea Klaphake, SPPS's communications intern, for her help in covering this event!

SPHS AcaDec students earn state medals!

Saint Peter High School's Academic Decathlon (AcaDec) team had a strong showing at the recent Minnesota State Academic Decathlon competition in Plymouth. Five members of the SPHS team earned medals in their respective divisions. Those earning medals included:

Varsity
Addison Maxfield - showcased & gold in speech, bronze in interview, and lit
Emma Allen - gold in math, bronze in music

Honor
Makayla Crowley silver in math

The full team roster included:
HONOR - Makayla Crowley, Amelia Staples, Anabelle Alexandri, and Eleanor Easton Hong

VARSITY - Addison Maxfield and Emma Allen.

Coaches - Peggy Dimock and Andrew Vollmer.

SPHS Academic Decathlon team shines at regional competition

Saint Peter High School's Academic Decathlon (AcaDec) team has a long history of success, and the Saints continued that run during the recent regional competition. All six SPHS competitors, under the guidance of AcaDec advisor Peggy Dimock, earned a medal of some kind from the regional competition, which had to be held virtually because of the weather.

"This is a brand new team, as all of our former members graduated last year!" Dimock said. " I couldn't be prouder of this young team!"

Those Saints earning medals included:
Senior Amelia Staples - Silver in Essay
Senior Addy Maxfield - Silver in Science and Economics
Senior Hamdi Garad - Silver in essay
Freshman Makayla Crowley - Bronze in Economics
Freshman Anabelle Alexandri - Silver in Science
Freshman Eleanor Easton Hong - Silver in Music

About Academic Decathlon

Academic Decathlon is a national scholastic competition for students in grades 9–12 that fosters academic excellence, teamwork, and critical life skills. Students of all GPA levels compete in ten diverse subjects, ranging from math and science to speech and interview, to build personal pride and accountability. Visit www.usad.org to learn how this program prepares students for the rigors of college and beyond.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY DEDICATION

A dedication ceremony took place on Jan. 29th for the most recently completed Habitat for Humanity home in the Traverse Green subdivision in St. Peter. This residence will soon become the home of Meihua Li, a paraprofessional at North Elementary; her husband, Paul Peterson; and their daughter, Freya Peterson, an eighth grader at Saint Peter Middle School.

The house was partially constructed by Saint Peter High School's Building Trades class, taught by Scott Robinson, during the 2024-25 school year. Several representatives of Habitat for Humanity South Central Minnesota and the ReStore were also on hand for the dedication.

SPMS CELEBRATION DAY HIGHLIGHTS

In February, Saint Peter Middle School students (grades 5-8) took part in the Celebration Day activities. Students were able to sign up for a variety of activities in one of the classrooms, gyms, the media center, the lunchroom, and the St. Peter Community Center.

SPMS stages "James & the Giant Peach, Jr." for two large audiences

Saint Peter Middle School's Theater program performed "James and the Giant Peach, Jr." on the SPMS theatre stage the weekend of March 6-7. This year's director was Abby Alderman, while Bri Bergstrom was the vocal director and Sam Budzinski served as the choreographer.

According to StageAgent.com, a synopsis of 'James and the Giant Peach, Jr.' is as follows: "After his parents are killed by a stampeding rhino, James Trotter spends time in an orphanage before being sent to the only family he has left, his aunts Spiker and Sponge. But his aunts are cruel and torment poor James mercilessly. Urged by a mysterious man called Ladahlord, James creates a magical potion in an effort to change his situation. But the magic gets away from him, and instead, he creates a giant peach and human-sized insects. The aunts see a way to make money from this impressive fruit. However, the insects decide they have to escape, and with James, they cut the peach from the tree–and their adventure begins."

"We were a new directing team and were so excited to work with middle school students and help them find joy in theater!" Bergstrom said. "We had a blast, and we just tried to keep it a really fun atmosphere while sharing a childhood favorite story that everyone knows with really cool music to go with it. These kids are so talented, and we had so much fun!"

SPMS KICKS OFF 3RD QUARTER DURING ASSEMBLY

Saint Peter Middle School students and staff gathered in the school's gym to celebrate the start of the third quarter of the 2025-26 school year. Included in the assembly were acknowledgements of the SPMS Students of the Month and winter activities participants, along with a drawing of Saints' Pride tickets with prizes awarded to the student winners! The fun-filled event wrapped up with a game of Speed Puzzling, which was won by the 8th-grade class, followed by (in order of finish) the 5th-grade, 6th-grade, and 7th-grade classes.

North hosts Passion Project event to celebrate end of first semester

Due to delays caused by cold weather, North Elementary students were finally able to complete the first semester of the 2025-26 school year at the end of January. They participated in the Passion Project festivities held throughout the building.

During the last hour of that day, students could sign up for an activity they were interested in, taught by North staff. Students choose their top three activity choices, and the PBIS team created groups. Saint Peter High School Project for Teens volunteers also helped out in several of the rooms.

North fourth graders take part in Kindness Retreat

Generous support from Mankato Clinic Foundation & St. Peter Lions makes event possible

Kurt Hildebrandt,
School Information Coordinator

North Elementary fourth graders participated in the annual day-long Kindness Retreat on Thursday, Feb. 19, at Johnson Hall (Nicollet County Fairgrounds). The event was organized and facilitated by the Youth Frontiers organization, with financial support provided by the Mankato Clinic Foundation and the St. Peter Lions Club.

The Kindness Retreat is a high-energy day to give students tools to develop empathy and promote kindness. Members of the Saint Peter High School National Honor Society assisted the Youth Frontiers crew during the event. The retreat facilitators from Youth Frontiers working with our students were Dahlia Jones and Elizabeth Dickey.

The Mankato Clinic Foundation awarded a $2,500 grant for the Kindness Retreat. The physicians at the Mankato Clinic provide the majority of the Foundation funding as a means to give back to the community by providing support to organizations that strive to improve health and wellness.

Additional financial support was provided by the St. Peter Lions Club and additional community member donations for the purchase of snacks, pizza, and other materials. Thanks to all of our donors for their generosity in making the Kindness Retreat such an important event!

This month's Get Caught Reading featured guest is Morgan Lenhoff, North Elementary's media center paraprofessional. "This is my first year working in the library at North Elementary," Morgan said. "My husband teaches 2nd grade at North, and together we produce the student play productions at North." The Lenhoffs have three children: Maxwell and Miles are 9th graders, and Emerson is a 5th grader, who have always been a big help with the play productions as well. Theyhare our home with many pets, books, and board games. "In my free time, I love to be outside hiking and riding bikes when the weather is warmer," she said. "I also enjoy visiting libraries, independent bookstores, and locally owned toy stores when traveling." The following is a Get Caught Reading profile with Morgan Lenhoff:

Morgan Lenhoff, North Elementary's media center para, enjoys picking up a new book and the unknown adventure that awaits her inside those pages!

What did you read when you were a kid? When I was a child, a lot of my time was committed to gymnastics and piano, so most of the books I read were required reading for school. However, reading The Giver by Lois Lowry and the Harry Potter series by JK Rowling drew me in and kept me reading during the breaks in my busy schedule. I have just as busy, if not a busier schedule now, keeping up with my family and their activities, but you can almost always find a book in my bag tagging along for those free moments.

What do you like to read now? As an adult, I really enjoy reading historical fiction, but I also can't pass a picture book by without taking a look. We visit the public library at least once a week and have a great home library to keep us all in books. Some of my favorite authors are Mac Barnett, Jon Klassen, Ariel Lawhon, Amy Timberlake, Kate DiCamillo, and Anna James.

What do you enjoy most about reading? My favorite part about picking up a new book is the unknown adventure that awaits me inside. Although the thing that I enjoy most about reading is sharing books with others, by either reading aloud to them, discussing a book we have both read, or recommending a book I think that they will like.

SOUTH READ-A-THON HIGHLIGHTS

As part of the “I Love to Read Month” activities, on Feb. 12, South Elementary (gr. K-1) hosted its annual Read-A-Thon event. Each classroom teacher was assigned a 20-minute period devoted exclusively to reading activities. The South Elementary Star Pride Koala Bear also made the trek around the building, spending time in each classroom throughout the day. All proceeds from the pledges supported Star Pride activities at South, and the class that collected the most pledges was rewarded with a pizza party! Here are some photo highlights from early-morning reading activities!

WILL SINGS SONGS AT SOUTH

After two previous delays, students and staff at South Elementary were finally able to celebrate the end of the second quarter and the beginning of the third quarter with a special musical event in the school’s music room on Tuesday, Feb. 3.

Will Bjorndal, a highly popular Minnesota kids’ musician and naturalist, visited South Elementary to perform his “Will Sings Songs” program. The event was originally scheduled for Jan. 23 but had to be rescheduled twice – once due to the cold weather and the other due to illness. The program proved to be worth the wait as the high-energy performance entertained all three audiences in the music room.

According to his website (https://willsweb.site/), Will writes, records, and performs original music for kids, focusing on positivity, humor, and learning through curiosity. Many of my tunes are nature themed, and others are just plain fun. He strives to create music that is fun and engaging for kids as well as fun-loving adults!

He is a native of Austin, MN, and now lives in the Minneapolis area. Before becoming a full-time musician, he worked as an interpretive naturalist and bee researcher. In addition to Will Sings Songs, Will fronts an artsy fartsy band called Prairie Clamor.

South first graders are gifted a copy of ‘The Kindness Booth’

Kurt Hildebrandt,
School Information Coordinator

First-grade students at South Elementary received a special gift this week thanks to a partnership between Greater Mankato Area United Way and Capstone. Each student was given a copy of The Kindness Booth, written by Laura K. Murray and illustrated by Andreana Boatta, as part of a literacy and character-building initiative.

Murray visited the South media center on Tuesday to read the book aloud, engage students in discussions about spreading kindness, and distribute copies for students to take home. Volunteers Lisa Witte of United Prairie Banks and Matthew Knutson of MacLean Power Systems also joined the event to assist the author with her presentation and distribute a copy of the popular book to each of the first graders.

Students were especially excited to learn that the book’s illustrator included numerous dinosaur illustrations—a fun nod to the character Oliver’s love for dinosaurs.

This collaboration highlights the power of partnerships in fostering a love of reading and encouraging young learners to embrace kindness in their daily lives. Here are some photo highlights from the presentation and reading.

Is your family on the school census?

The Saint Peter School District keeps a record of all families in our school district. Being on the school census ensures:

- You will automatically receive ECFE mailings.
- You will be notified of Early Childhood Screening.
- The elementary school will be expecting your child when it is time for kindergarten.
- That maximum funding is received by our district from state/local government.

Please call 934-3048 ext. 2018 if you are new to the district or your family has grown with additional births or adoptions!
