About Me:

I am entering my 14th year in education and have had the privilege of teaching 2nd, 3rd, and 4th grades throughout my career. I earned my degree in Elementary Education from Brigham Young University–Idaho in 2012. Outside of the classroom, I enjoy traveling and exploring new places with my husband, Roger, as well as reading, swimming, baking, and crafting.

My Favorites:

Snacks: mixed nuts, Chips, Pretzels, Cheese

Drink: Diet Coke

Food: Anything

Dessert: Chocolate, Gummy Bears, Icecream

Season: fall

Color: Purple and Blue

Authors: Lucy Montgomery

Movies: Operation Petticoat

My why for being in education:

I chose to be in education because I believe in the power of helping children grow. There is nothing more rewarding than watching a student light up when they understand something new or overcome a challenge.
