Mrs. Seiter

About Me:

This will be my 12th year in education, with experience teaching K-2nd and 3rd -5th special education. My husband Matt and I have 2 children, Tinsley who is 14 and will be going into 8th grade at Heartland, and Turner who is 7 and going into 1st grade here at Washington Irving. We love to do things as a family such as swimming, watching movies, or just hanging out in our backyard. I love to read and watch softball.

My Favorites:

Snacks: teryaki beef jerky, dots pretzels
Drink: Cherry Dr. Pepper Zero
Food: steak and potatoes, Tex Mex
Dessert: cookies, brownies
Season: fall
Team: OU, Thunder
Color: purple
Authors: Nora Roberts
Movies: A League of Their Own
Animal: dogs
Flower: orange roses

My why for being in education:

Growing up, I watched my aunt dedicate her life to special education, and her compassion, patience, and unwavering belief in every student's potential left a lasting impression on me. She showed me that teaching is about so much more than academics—it's about building relationships, celebrating every achievement, and advocating for students who need someone to believe in them. Following in her footsteps has become both an honor and an inspiration. My passion for working with students with special needs comes from a genuine desire to help each child recognize their strengths, overcome challenges, and experience success in their own unique way. I am committed to creating an inclusive, supportive learning environment where every student feels valued, respected, and capable of reaching their fullest potential. Knowing that I can make a meaningful difference in the lives of these students and their families is what motivates me every day and reminds me why I chose this profession.
