About Me:

This will be my 21st year in education. I have taught in Tennessee, Texas, and Oklahoma. I received my bachelor's degree from Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. Then, I married my husband, Ty, who retired from active duty in the U.S. Army as a Colonel and now works for the FAA. We have lived all over the United States which fostered my love of traveling. We have two grown children, Tristan, his wife Lexi, and our first grandchild, Theo, and Alex, our daughter. I love the outdoors especially riding ATV's and fishing in the mountains. We have two Bassett hounds, Harley and Lizzie. I love this school and my school family.

My Favorites:

Snacks: peanut butter pretzels; fruit

Drink: Dr. Pepper and Sweet Tea

Food: Mexican and Italian

Dessert: ice cream; cookies

Season: fall & summer

Team: Texas Tech Red Raiders

Color: navy blue and dark red

Authors: Nathaniel Hawthorne, Charles Dickens, J.K. Rowling, Katherine Applegate, & Suzanne Collins

Movies: Sweet Home Alabama and Maverick

Animal: dogs and bears

Flower: peonies and sunflowers

My why for being in education:

I honestly have two reasons for being in education. The first is that I was raised by parents who were involved in education. My mom was a school secretary, and my dad was a retired superintendent. My dad taught me a love for learning and for recognizing the importance of children and their education. The second reason was one of convenience. Since I was marrying a man who would move me around the country, I needed an occupation that would travel. I have never regretted a minute of my decision.
