About Me:

This will be my 29th year in education, with experience teaching K-5, Middle School Science and leading my own campus for 14 years. Three years ago I felt the pull to come back to the classroom and slow my life down to spend more time with my family. I have three adult children Megan, Regan and Erin as well as two adorable grandchildren. I love spending time camping, watching movies, doing crafts, and gardening with my grandson.

My why for being in education:

I have been lucky enough to teach and/or lead campuses for my entire career and I can honestly say there is nothing I enjoy doing more. I love supporting families and helping my students develop the skills they need to move to the next phase of school. I love watching students grow and change through the year and leave my classroom more confident. I love working with my team and helping newer teachers develop their skills as educators.

Fun Facts:

- I have known my best friend for 44 years.
- I bake over 100 cinnamon rolls at one time and send them to nurses on the NICU every year.
- I love going to car shows, camping, and 90s POP.
