Kwajalein Senior High School School Profile 2022-2023

Kwajalein High School

Kwajalein High School is located on the island of Kwajalein in the Republic of the Marshall Islands and is accredited by Cognia. U.S. Army Garrison - Kwajalein Atoll executes base support operations, through the LOGCAP V contractors, supporting the strategically important Ronald Reagan Test Site (RTS). Additionally, USAG-KA supports the U.S. Embassy advancing the relationship with the Republic of the Marshall Islands. The Kwajalein High School is a Government Owned and Contractor Operated private institution with current enrollment at 70 students in grades nine through twelve. The school is operated by Vectrus, a logistics and engineering support contractor. The Class of 2023 contains seventeen students, including four Marshallese students from the island of Ebeye and thirteen American students.

Island Community

The island of Kwajalein is in the central Pacific and is part of the Republic of the Marshall Islands. Most of the island residents are US citizens. Kwajalein is the only US military installation that offers host nation education for children in the US school on the base. Kwajalein also offers many employment opportunities for the native Marshallese community that live on the neighboring island of Ebeye making up over 60% of the workforce. Daily, the island is a thriving community of US and Marshallese workers and students.

School Community

Approximately 102 students are enrolled in grades 7-12. Most are dependents of U.S. civilian and U.S. military personnel working on the island. There is no need for free/reduced lunch at the school. All students living on Kwajalein go home for lunch, while the Marshallese students from Ebeye are provided a lunch paid for by the RMI government. All students are required to complete school service hours for their class. Each grade level is assigned class hours according to age. Many private companies and government entities participate in supporting/enhancing school operations including MIT/Lincoln Laboratory, Vectrus, RGNEXT, NETCOM, and the U.S. Army. Most parents have professional and technical backgrounds.
