

Are you eligible for the Texas Home Visiting Program?

Applications for the program are now being accepted!

Innovative Network of Knowledge (INK) is an educational nonprofit that offers comprehensive services for educators and families, including early learning strategies, child development workshops, family health resources, and personal well-being courses.

INK now offers services through the Texas Home Visiting Program, at NO cost to families!

Families eligible for FREE services offered by the Texas Home Visiting Program include:

- Parents, caregivers, or expecting parents or primary caregivers of a child up to age five. Primary caregivers can include a grandparent or other relative of the child, foster parent, or noncustodial parent who has an ongoing relationship with and provides physical care for the child.
- Parents or primary caregivers expecting or parenting a young child, from birth until the child's sixth birthday or are of age to attend kindergarten.
- Families who reside in Atascosa County.
- Families who exhibit one or more Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI) priority characteristics.

If you answered YES to any of the above, you are invited to apply to the Texas Home Visiting Program!

To apply, or to find out more information about the Texas Home Visiting Program, contact INK at Info@ExploreINK.org.

Would you like to create a nurturing and positive environment for your growing family?

Would you like to create a healthy and happy environment for your children to grow up in?

Are you a parent looking to become more self-sufficient?

You can achieve this and more with the help of INK and the Texas Home Visiting Program!

Innovative Network of Knowledge (INK) is an educational nonprofit that offers comprehensive services for parents, educators, and families, including early learning strategies, child development workshops, family health resources, and personal well-being courses.

With the help of INK, eligible families in Atascosa County can receive FREE services offered by the Texas Home Visiting Program!

Thanks to the Texas Home Visiting Program, pregnant women and families with children under 5 years old can receive regular visits from Home Visitors right to their homes, at NO cost.

This program can help your family grow together by achieving positive and attainable goals. INK supports resilient families to get stronger.

Applications for the program are now being accepted!

To apply, or to find out more information about the Texas Home Visiting Program, contact INK at Info@ExploreINK.org.

