Community

Georgetown is a historic coastal community located on Winyah Bay in South Carolina's Lowcountry. According to the 2020 Census, the city has a population of 8,403, while Georgetown County has more than 63,000 residents. Following the closures of the Liberty Steel Mill and International Paper Mill, the community has continued to adapt through growth in tourism, healthcare, education, manufacturing, and small businesses. Higher education opportunities are available through nearby campus of Horry-Georgetown Technical College.

This uniform grading scale will apply to all student course grades completed after the first day of school August 2016.
