HAPPY

EDUCATIONAL SUPPORT PROFESSIONAL'S DAY

Thank you to our custodians, school psychologist, counselors, bus drivers, paraprofessionals, media specialist, administrative professionals, guidance support professionals, cafeteria staff, school nurse, speech pathologist, bookkeeper, and everyone who keeps our school running behind the scenes.

This Week in Pictures

This week students and staff enjoyed dress up week. On Thursday, students dressed as staff and staff dressed as students.

Students of the Health Science Academy toured Northwest Florida State College to learn more about the health science programs they offer there. The students heard from the directors of the nursing, radiography, certifications, EMT/paramedic, and law enforcement departments. In the pictures the students were in the EMT/paramedic and law enforcement simulation classrooms.

On Saturday Nov. 8th the Varsity Basketball team volunteered at the Open Door Food Pantry! The boys helped distribute food, make kids snack packs, and organize storage areas.

This Week in Pictures

The SWHS staff enjoyed a wonderful Thanksgiving lunch last week. Thank you to the awesome South Walton cafeteria staff for the delicious meal! It was a great start to the holiday season.

PERSEVERANCE

Teacher Resource

GRADES 9-12

WHAT IS PERSEVERANCE?
Continuing to try even when things are hard.

PURPOSE
These interactive activities will help your students learn more about perseverance by identifying their struggles, personal goals and strategies they can implement to manage setbacks and challenges. Share the suggested introduction with your students, choose one or more of the activities below, and conclude with the suggested wrap-up. Feel free to modify or extend activities throughout the week to continue reinforcing perseverance.

BENCHMARKS
HE.912.8.2.4 Implement strategies and monitor progress in achieving a personal goal.
HE.912.8.2.7 Evaluate strategies that assist with managing challenges or setbacks. Clarification: Time management, setting boundaries, setting realistic goals and self-care.

Suggested Introduction
 "Today, we are going to explore ways we can use perseverance to manage setbacks and conquer our personal goals. Perseverance involves being a hard worker who is task-oriented and undeterred by obstacles. As all of you navigate through life, you will always face obstacles. You may not make the sports team you tried out for, you may lose contact with a close friend or you may not get into the college you applied for. Hardships are inevitable, but how you choose to face these hardships and come out on the other end is what will allow you to succeed."

Activities to Build Perseverance:
1 Vision Boards for the Future
 Encourage students to visualize their future and the goals they want to achieve. Provide magazines, colored paper and markers for students to draw images and write words that represent their academic, personal and career aspirations. Encourage students to include strategies that will assist them with managing challenges or setbacks (e.g., time management, setting and understanding the necessary boundaries, identifying a support system). After students create their vision board, allow time for students to explain how each element of their vision board connects to their short-term and long-term goals and share a summary of their strategies to prepare for challenges. Be sure to revisit the vision boards often and check in frequently with students to discuss challenges and victories along the way.

RESILIENT FLORIDA

PERSEVERANCE

Teacher Resource

GRADES 9-12

Activities to Build Perseverance (Continued):
2 "Fall Forward"
 Help students see failure as a learning experience and a stepping stone to success. Have students research someone who achieved success after many failures (e.g., Thomas Edison, Helen Keller, Louis Zamperini). Students will present the failures that person faced and how he or she used those setbacks as motivation to continue. Next, ask students to reflect on a time they experienced failure and how they can "fall forward" by learning from the experience. Encourage students to identify the strategies that were used to overcome their challenges, such as time management and setting realistic goals, or to reflect on how these strategies could have helped. This activity helps students reframe failure as a natural part of the learning process and encourages perseverance instead of giving up.

3 Perseverance Through Art or Music
 Have students create a piece of art, compose a piece of music or write a poem that represents perseverance. Once completed, have students present their work and explain how it reflects perseverance.

Suggested Wrap-Up:
 "You've been learning about perseverance the last several years. As you move beyond high school, how can you apply these strategies in the future to your everyday life? Remember, we will always face challenges, but how we choose to respond is what makes us successful. If you are ever unsure what to do, remember you can always ask for help from a parent, teacher or friend."

Volunteer Opportunities for SWHS Students

30A 10k Thanksgiving Day Races November 26 - 27, 2025

The 30A 10k Thanksgiving Day Race Series is a 501c3 non-profit organization, whose purpose is to serve the community by producing a world-class 10k and related events that raise money to benefit local charities, while promoting health and fitness. To date, the series has raised more than $870,000 for our charity partners to help local families and children in need. The Thanksgiving Day Race Series offers two days of fun and has become a family tradition! With 10k, 5k and 1 mile run/walk, there is a race distance for every ability.

We're looking for about 45 volunteers to help cover our assigned shifts-and our funding from this event depends on both filling those spots and having volunteer show up on race day.

This is a fun, family-friendly way to spend Thanksgiving morning! Tasks include selling merch, helping set up the race course, and handing out water along the route. We had such a great time last year, and we'd love to have you join us again!

If you'll be in town this Thanksgiving, please consider signing up!
