Brady Ryan Named Head Girls Basketball Coach at Rose Hill High School

Rose Hill High School is proud to announce the hiring of Brady Ryan as the new head coach of the high school girls basketball program, bringing a strong background in coaching, education, and a deep connection to the community.

Ryan joins the program with experience coaching multiple sports, including basketball, baseball, and football, both as a teacher and Rule 10 coach. He began his basketball coaching career as an assistant in 2014 and most recently served as the head girls basketball coach at Sylvan-Lucas Unified for the past three seasons.

"I am coming to Rose Hill because this is home to me, but I am also here to help rebuild this program the right way," Ryan said. "If you are passionate about this game, then you can't be casual about it. I'm excited to meet everyone and get to work."

A graduate of Rose Hill High School, Ryan expressed enthusiasm about returning to coach in the same community where he grew up. He emphasized that building relationships will be the foundation of his program.

"My philosophy starts with building relationships with players and staff," Ryan said. "When there is respect and trust, athletes will put in the work and effort, and I would do the same for them."

Ryan plans to emphasize teamwork, accountability, and strong character as core values. He believes success comes from every player understanding their role and contributing to the team's overall goals.

"It takes more than five players to win a basketball game... everyone has a role, and it is significant to our success," he said.

Looking ahead, Ryan is focused on both immediate and long-term growth of the program. In the short term, he aims to establish daily habits that promote improvement, while his long-term vision centers on rebuilding the program into a consistent and competitive presence.

"What excites me most is the ability to grow and develop this program in the right direction from youth basketball to the high school level," Ryan said.

Ryan also stressed the importance of mindset in developing student-athletes.

"Having the proper mindset is crucial," he said. "When a positive mindset is present, leadership and skills quickly follow."

Beyond the court, Ryan is committed to fostering a positive and inclusive environment.

"This program will have an enjoyable atmosphere," he said. "I value my student-athletes' opinions and believe everything is for the team, not just the individual."

In addition to his coaching duties, Ryan will serve as a middle school physical education teacher, where he looks forward to helping students grow through teamwork, sportsmanship, and strategic thinking.

Ryan's passion for coaching has been shaped by mentors Robert Hansen, Scott Carr, and Don Patterson, who helped guide his early career.

With strong community ties, a clear vision, and a commitment to student-athlete development, Ryan is poised to lead the girls basketball program into an exciting new era.
