SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY

Southeastern Regional Vocational Technical High School, accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, is a regional high school located in South Easton, Massachusetts, and offers both academic and technical education. The entire student population, approximately 1600 students in grades 9-12, draws from the City of Brockton and nine surrounding towns, including East Bridgewater, Easton, Foxboro, Mansfield, Norton, Sharon, Stoughton, and West Bridgewater.

The school operates on a five-day instructional system, which is five consecutive days of academic instruction, followed by five consecutive days of vocational instruction. Southeastern Regional operates on a two-semester schedule with four marking periods. GPA is calculated at the end of each school year except for seniors.

DUAL ENROLLMENT/EARLY COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

Southeastern Regional School District offers both a Dual Enrollment College program and an Early College High School program.

Dual Enrollment courses are typically individual college courses that count towards credit on both the high school and college transcripts. These courses are taken in addition to high school courses. Dual Enrollment is offered after school, in person when possible, and online when remote is necessary.

Students accepted into our Early College High School program complete all academic courses through a partnership with Massasoit Community College. The vocational education continues on campus at Southeastern Regional. Students who participate in Early College High School are eligible to earn up to an associate degree.
