Dear Little Silver Schools Community:

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to share an important update regarding our district's ongoing commitment to providing a clear and comprehensive framework for the use of technology in our schools.

Over the past several months, our district leadership team has been working to develop a new Technology Handbook. This resource was created through a collaborative process that included listening to valuable parent feedback, conducting meetings with our instructional staff, and engaging in focused conversations with the Board of Education through our various committee meetings. Furthermore, our leadership team conducted research and internal reviews to ensure our procedures align with best practices in education.

The Technology Handbook is intended to be a "living document" that will be updated annually to reflect the evolving nature of technology in education. Moving forward, a revised version will be distributed to the community before the beginning of every school year.

This inaugural version serves to memorialize and communicate the specific procedures, practices, and educational technology tools that are currently integrated into our district for the 2025-2026 school year.

We believe this transparency will help ensure that all students and families are well-informed and supported as we leverage these tools to enhance and support learning.

While the Handbook will be posted to the district's website, here is a link for your convenience.

Thank you for your continued support and engagement with our school district. Together, we can create the best possible environment for our children to thrive and be prepared for the world yet to come.

Committed to Excellence,

Eric Platt
Superintendent of Schools
