

ROAD MAP TO LITERACY

It's March into Literacy Month!

Over Spring Break, try these literacy-themed activities while building connections with self and others. Looking for more activities?

Visit your local library and meet the librarians. Learn about the many activities and resources your public library offers and ask a librarian what their favorite books were when they were your age.

Read a book with a family member or friend.

April is National Card and Letter Writing Month! Show kindness to brighten someone's day by sending them a letter or drawing.

Sometimes reading can be challenging! When you notice yourself feeling frustrated or challenged, try using strategies like slow breathing or taking a break to feel calm to work through those moments. You may also try pairing the audio version to read along with your book.

Don't have a library card? Visit your local branch of the Loudoun County Library with a parent or guardian and register for a free card.

Literacy is everywhere! Check out a Little Free Library near you by using this map with the help of an adult.

Connect with a friend or family member: share about your favorite book or ask, "what is your favorite book?"

Have books you are no longer reading? Pass on gently used books to friends, family, or the Loudoun Literacy Council.
