Be Kind.

Playing Musical Chairs... but in this classroom
EVERYONE finds a seat.

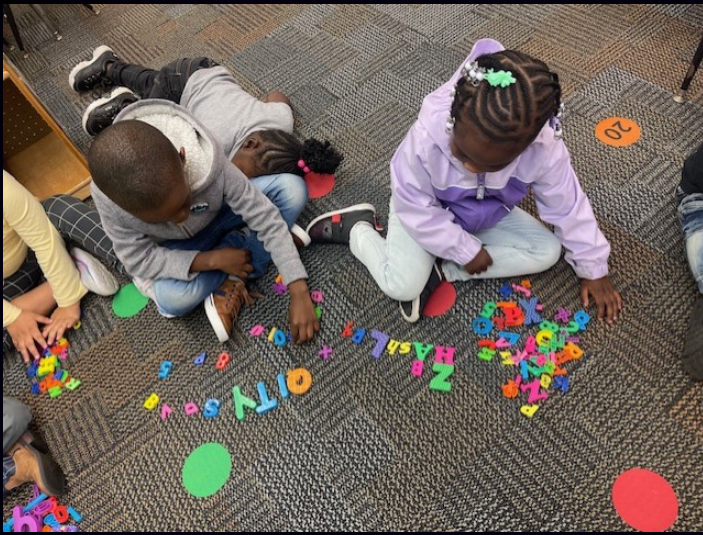

Friends allow others to sit on their lap in
Ms. Tucker's room at Discovery.

Ms. Anderson at Jupiter dressed up her dramatic play as a bakery shop and it is busy every day. She colored sponges as brownies, felt for cinnamon rolls, and found plastic donuts that the children just love to put in the oven and bake. They even have their friend the Gingerbread Man sitting for some sweet stuff....

Ms. Martin's class
at Jupiter -
children spending
time identifying
the difference
between letters
and numbers
while children
build words...

Mrs. Rothe's classroom at Palm Bay playing in their new Christmas themed centers the children helped to decorate. When children are given responsibilities like this it strengthens Regard for Student Perspective and supports Approaches to Learning Domain - Components C and D.

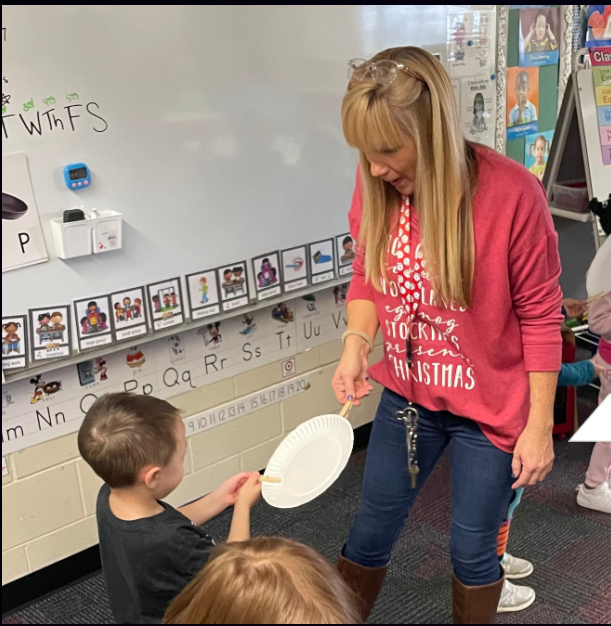

Holiday spirit
shines in Ms.
Cruz's class at Discovery!

HAPPY
holidays

Children practicing fine motor skills in Ms. Burn's class at Enterprise Elementary. Children pass a paper plate to each other with only a clothespin. This supports question #49 on our Developmental Assessment which aligns with Physical Development Domain C - Fine Motor Development!
