CMS IS AVID

This means that all students actively learn and utilize AVID strategies, incorporate skills that target goals for learning gains, and skills that allow students to participate in tracking their growth towards those goals.

Students are valued stakeholders. They should be a part of designing their future and it starts now with opening doors to a world of opportunities. On and off campus, students engage in real world research, collaborative tasks, and solutions built through innovative and unique design processes. They learn to feel the pride of a job well done as they take responsibility and control of their education.

Odyssey of the Mind

ALL about Summer @ CMS

The program is designed by a professor whose desire was for unique solutions based on student buy in and altruism. Volunteerism is a civic virtue and the only way these programs survive is through community support and service. The reciprocal teaching has been paying off and for more than 50 years students have created, joined, and sustained programs in schools around the country. Our outstanding crew has planned and executed problem-based solutions for real world conservation in mind. Instilling global philosophies through open ended questioning, divergent solutions are constructed with reclaimed, repurposed, and recycled materials that encourage young minds to think about the future for others. Stewards of global society are learning to use their time, talents, and treasure to provide.

Central Middle School is proud to present our "State Champion OM Team"

We are so proud of our team's work ethic, their ingenuity, resilience, and the joy they've sustained in each process of the journey promoting themselves and OM Themes through District, State, and now World competition.

Below is picture of the team in their costumes made from thousands of hand decorated coffee filters that they learned to make in Mrs. Alban's science class and took those skills into mass production. They also created three original works of art and a Rube Goldberg machine that dismantled and reassembled one of those works of art. Their engineering, teamwork, and problem-solving skills were incredible, and they deserve a chance to compete against teams from around the world.
