Today we talked about how search engines work. We also brainstormed and discussed search _strategies_ that will make us more _effective_ and _efficient_ online researchers. Why do you think it's important to become a better online researcher? How will you use what we talked about today as you begin your Science Research project? Answer on your own sheet of paper 😊