OF THE GROWL STAFF

Junior Brianna Douglas performs as part of the Band TSA group at the pep rally. Douglas is a co-captain of the squad.

Blowing their horns, senior Katherine Comber, and fellow band members make the pep rally come alive with spirited music. Comber has been a member of Marching band for four years. Band Director Ian Schwindt is usually the emcee of all of the pep rallies.

Varsity Cheerleaders take center stage during the pep rally. They performed a dance routine and a stunt for the crowd. The new cheer coach on campus is Heather Hanson.

Seniors Bentley Baker and Morgan Wyckoff hang out with friends during lunch on Frat Day during spirit week. Wyckoff is a new member of Yearbook Staff this year.

Walking across campus after fourth block during Decades Day of Spirit week, junior Ian McCaslin stands out as he wears a colonial period uniform. McCaslin was a member of NJROTC this school year. Students could wear clothes indicating whichever decade of fashion they wanted to this day.

Waiting curb side for their ride after school, Blake Jurovcik and friend Ian Buchanon have a quick conversation. Jurovcik dressed up for Decades Day during spirit week hitting multiple decades with the walking cane, flannel shirt, and cargo shorts.

Terriers go all out on 1st Annual Merrier Terrier community event

Titusville High School administration wanted to create an event that would include the student body, faculty & staff and the entire Titusville area community.

After more than 18 months of Covid related restrictions for group gatherings, the THS administration felt that it was time to reach out to the students, faculty/staff and all families, and get together in a positive manner.

With that in mind they developed an event to include an outdoor movie, bounce houses for children, arts and crafts, musical performances, karaoke, Florida "snow", musical performances, karaoke, Florida "snow", food concessions, face painting and of course Santa Claus. Additionally, there were characters from the movie Frozen.

The campus was decorated in a holiday/winter theme. Volunteers were rounded up from the student body, faculty/staff, school clubs, and Terrier Parent Volunteer group. It was a huge undertaking to pull off the first ever Merrier Terrier event.

Proceeds from the event will go into a school fund to be used for any needs the school may have. Many groups and classrooms have struggled to meet needs because traditional fund raisers like dances and concerts were not allowed to be held until November this year.

NJROTC cadets help set up for the event during their classes.

Titusville High School's own NJROTC went above and beyond with their annual Turkeys for Terriers fundraiser that is used to purchase complete Thanksgiving dinners for Terrier families in need for the holidays.

Faculty/staff members competed in a paper target shoot out held in the NJROTC shooting facility on campus the day before Thanksgiving break, during all lunches. Scores are taken and prizes are awarded at the end. There were also door prizes for participating.

Cadets raised money by getting money pledges for doing push ups and sit-ups. Cadets raised over $800 and faculty/staff contributed over $200.

Kevin Gilreath (Art Instructor) was the top turkey assassin, followed closely by Jackie Berley (P.E. Instructor) that he had to beat in a shoot out. Sean Laughlin was the door prize winner. Best dressed turkey slayers were Diana Chaves and Ana Blaha (both Spanish Instructors). Just to prove it could be done the assistant coach Mrs Gloria Kollosch shot a perfect 100. She did not want the prize, just having fun.
