CNS News:

At YISD, your child gets free breakfast at school this year – but what about lunch? Even if you're not sure, it's worth filling out a quick & simple lunch application NOW to see if your child qualifies for free or reduced-price lunch.

En YISD, su hijo recibirá desayuno gratis en la escuela este año, pero ¿qué pasa con el almuerzo? Incluso si no está seguro, vale la pena llenar ahora una solicitud de almuerzo, que es rápida y sencilla, para ver si su hijo califica para almuerzo gratis o a precio reducido.

FAQ

Q: Can my child receive a second plate if they are still hungry?

Students may purchase a second meal if they would like more food. The cost is $2.10 for Elementary students and $2.35 for Secondary students. In addition, the Texas Department of Agriculture allows students to receive extra servings of the fruits and vegetables offered that day at no additional cost.

Q: Can CNS assist with my child's special dietary accommodations?

Schools must provide free meal accommodations when a student has a disability, food allergy, or other condition that affects their diet. This requires a medical statement from a licensed practitioner or inclusion in the student's IEP. If a parent requests an accommodation without a medical condition or IEP, the school can still allow it as long as it follows meal program rules.

During registration, we encourage parents or legal guardians to share any information regarding food allergies and/or dietary restrictions. Additionally, CNS offers a special diet request form that enables parents to provide detailed information about the necessary dietary accommodations. You can access the form here: https://www.yisd.net/page/child-nutrition-services
