

Randolph County School System “RCSS STAR3 Students” for January 2026

Franklinville Elementary School – Charles Wright

Franklinville Elementary is proud to present Charles Wright as our Star³ Student. Charles can always be seen helping teachers and peers throughout his classroom and the school. He works hard and always tries his best, showing a positive attitude in everything he does. His dedication and willingness to learn help make our school a better place each day. Charles consistently demonstrates responsibility, respect, and a strong work ethic; he is truly an excellent example of a Star³ Student!

Grays Chapel Elementary School – Jacob Spencer

Jacob Spencer is the perfect example of a STAR³ Student. As a member of the Safety Patrol, he warmly welcomes students to campus each day and has built a good rapport with students in other grade levels. When the school pantry funds were low, Jacob went out and collected money to help buy more food so other students in the school would not be without. He is described by one staff member as the "perfect little gentleman." Grays Chapel is honored to recognize Jacob Spencer as our STAR³ Student for January.

Level Cross Elementary School – Peyton York

Peyton York is truly deserving of the Star³ Award because she consistently demonstrates what it means to be a hard worker and a responsible student. She approaches every task with determination and always strives to do her best, even when challenges arise. Her positive attitude shines each day and helps create a welcoming and encouraging classroom environment. She is kind to everyone and is always willing to lend a helping hand to classmates or adults. Through her dedication, kindness, and willingness to help others, Peyton is an excellent candidate to receive Level Cross Elementary's award for Star³ Student.

Liberty Elementary School – Kaeden Bogues

Liberty Elementary is proud to celebrate Kaeden Bogues as our Star³ Student. Kaeden demonstrates responsibility, kindness, and a strong work ethic each day and is someone who truly shines in the classroom by consistently working hard and always putting forth his very best effort, no matter the task. Not only is Kaeden dedicated to his work, but he is also an incredibly respectful and polite member of our class. His excellent manners set a wonderful example for his classmates, and he treats everyone—students and teachers—with kindness and courtesy. Kaeden is a great friend, someone others know they can count on for support, encouragement, and a friendly smile. Whether it's helping a classmate, offering to tidy up materials, or lending a hand without being asked, Kaeden is truly a wonderful helper in every way- our classroom is a better place because of them!

Northeastern Randolph Middle School – Sophia Leon Aviles

Sophia represents our school with great Patriot pride as an active member of the Beta Club, a media assistant, and high achieving student. She is always willing to help her classmates and regularly volunteers to help her teachers and school as well. She is self-motivated, responsible, disciplined, and engaged which all make her the perfect "Portrait of a Patriot."

Providence Grove High School – Charles Villiagio

Charles Villiagio is an 11th grade student who excels both academically and within the school community. He is a dedicated three sport athlete, a member of the FCS, and plays an important role in the school by doing the morning announcements. Charles takes multiple AP classes and is known by his teachers for being inquisitive and always asking thoughtful questions. He consistently shows genuine kindness and respect to everyone around him each day. Providence Grove is proud to nominate Charles Villiagio as their Star³ Student.

Ramseur Elementary School – Gracey Gray

Ramseur Elementary is proud to recognize Gracey Gray, 5th grade student, as our STAR³ student for January. Gracey is exceptionally kind, friendly, and serves as a great role model for her peers. She is incredibly hardworking and consistently completes all her academic work to a high standard. Her presence in the classroom is a delight, and she always greets everyone with a sweet, genuine smile. Ramseur is delighted to nominate Gracey as our STAR³ Student for January.

Randleman Elementary School – Brandon Moore

This is Brandon's first year at RES and he is already close friends with most of the grade level! He is one of the most respectful students I know. He is a very smart, sweet, kind, and caring kid. He has a heart of gold. He always wants to do his very best and takes pride in everything he does! We are proud to call him the Star³ student for Randleman Elementary School.

Randleman High School – Gabriela Juarez Lopez

Gabriela Juarez Lopez is truly deserving of recognition as Randleman High School's STAR³ Student because she consistently exemplifies excellence, character, and service. As an honors student, she maintains exemplary grades while challenging herself with rigorous coursework, demonstrating strong discipline and commitment to learning. Gabriela balances her academics with meaningful involvement through volleyball and DECA, where she shows leadership, teamwork, and determination. She also played a key role in the success of the recent Latino Summit, generously giving her time and effort to support an event that strengthened connections within our school community. As one teacher shared, Gabriela is "a kind soul and really good kid—the kind of person that you hope your child grows up to be," making her a true asset to Randleman High School.

Randleman Middle School – Maidelis Guerrero Ramos

As a multi-lingual learner, Maidelis always goes above and beyond, utilizing resources to ensure she understands her assignments and coursework. Her teachers describe her as pleasant, hard-working, focused, and determined. She is respectful to her peers and teachers. Maidelis has a heart for others and is always willing to help her classmates. Randleman Middle School is honored to recognize Maidelis as our Star³ Student for January.
