Round Valley Summer Reading

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We want to share some exciting summer reading opportunities for your child! Reading during summer can be a wonderful way for children to discover new stories, maintain their reading skills, and have fun - all at their own pace. The following slides will explain how your child can continue reading this summer.

Reading Options for Summer

We're inviting all incoming 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade students to enjoy books this summer in whatever way works best for your family. Remember, summer reading is completely optional, but we're here to support those who choose to participate!

Reading can take many forms:

- Your child reading independently
- Family members reading aloud to your child
- Listening to audiobooks
- Any other reading experience your child enjoys!

Tracking Summer Reading (optional)

If your child would like to share their reading adventures:

- They can log books using our Summer Reading Book Form. Click Here for the Summer Reading Book For
- Please submit only one book at a time.
- This information helps next year's teachers learn about your child's reading interests.
- We'll celebrate all participants at the start of the new school year.

Finding the “Just Right” Books

To help your child find books they'll enjoy, we recommend the "five finger rule." Have your child read the first page of a book. If they encounter more than five unfamiliar words, the book might be better as a read-aloud experience with an adult. You can also find book suggestions and other activities on the next few slides.

RVS

Summer Reading

Complete and return to the library in September and receive a prize!

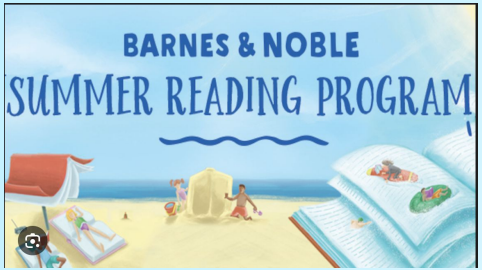

Read outside 	Read an award winning book 	Read with a buddy	Read an article from a magazine or newspaper	Read a book in a different format than you are used to.
Read a biography 	Read jokes or riddles 	Read in a tent or a blanket fort 	Read under the stars 	Read in the morning
Read a poem 	Read on a rainy day 	FREE SPACE	Read a book set in a place you have never visited	Read on a swing
Read out loud 	Read a book from an author you have never read before	Read an ebook 	Read a book about a character who does not look like you	Start a new series
Read a recipe or cookbook 	Read about a topic you do not know much about	Read under a tree 	Read wearing sunglasses 	Read with a pet or stuffed animal

Great Sources of Summer Reading!

HUNTERDON COUNTY
library home
LIBRARY SYSTEM

epic!

Reading Is Fundamental | Literacy Central

Our students have grown tremendously this past school year! Whether through reading or other enjoyable activities, we hope your family has a wonderful summer filled with fun and relaxation.

Happy Reading!

