The Academy of Emergency Medical Science (AOEMS) at Pine Forest High School is a small learning community designed for students interested in exploring careers in medicine and health care. The academy provides a rigorous, career-focused program of study that integrates science, technology, mathematics, and other academic disciplines with hands-on learning experiences. Through real-world applications in pre-hospital emergency care and long-term patient care settings, students develop essential communication, technical, academic, and critical-thinking skills. The AOEMS curriculum prepares students with the knowledge and practical skills needed to succeed in postsecondary education, professional training programs, and the health care workforce.
