Chef Meggan's Notes:

November brings a wonderful shift in the seasons, with cooler mornings, colorful leaves, and an abundance of beautiful fall produce. In our kitchen, we're embracing the harvest with hearty soups, roasted seasonal vegetables, and comforting meals made from scratch. It's the time of year that reminds us of the simple pleasures of gathering around the table and sharing a good meal.

As we approach Thanksgiving, I am especially thankful for our school community and the connections we continue to build through food. It's a privilege to be part of a place where fresh, thoughtfully prepared meals, local agriculture, and community are so deeply valued. Wishing everyone a wonderful November and restful Thanksgiving break!

Our Commitment to Local

We prioritize purchasing our ingredients from local farmers, ranchers, producers, and vendors whenever possible—supporting our regional food system while bringing fresh, seasonal food to our school meals.

Due to changes in state law, breakfast and lunch is free of charge for all students.

PLEASE NOTE - Without pre-ordering your child's meals as requested, we cannot guarantee the daily menu item. Another option, with fruit and milk, will always be available.
