

A vibrant Halloween-themed illustration. At the top, a large, glowing jack-o'-lantern with a classic triangular face sits atop a decorative archway. The archway is flanked by two ornate, dark metal pillars with curved tops. On either side of the pillars, a friendly-looking ghost with large eyes and a smile is peeking out. The background is a deep purple night sky with a full, bright moon and several small bats flying around. In the center, a path of stone steps leads up to a large, multi-story haunted house with many lit windows and a tall, pointed roof. The path is lined with small lanterns and is shrouded in a light mist. The overall scene is framed by autumn leaves and vines.
