October 2026

To the brothers and sisters of the Damascus Church, from Stelian Bularu, pastor of the Emanuel Church in Slobozia Mare:

Please accept our sincere greetings and blessings in Christ Jesus. We pray that the Lord Jesus may fill your lives and hearts with grace and peace.

I would like to express my deep gratitude for your financial and spiritual support (through your prayers). Thank you so much for backing the projects we have carried out together, which have helped expand the borders of the Kingdom of God into other localities across our country.

I also want to share with you some updates regarding the ministry and activities I am involved in alongside the brothers and sisters in the church. During the summer months of August and September, we held various activities in different villages and churches, including ordinations for ministers, weddings, evangelistic outreach, youth camps, and baptisms.

During this period, new churches were established in the localities of Bobocica and Hîrtop, where, for the first time, local villagers attended an evangelical religious service. Those who attended were deeply moved and promised to continue coming to church.

Another aspect of our ministry involves the ordination of brothers as deacons and pastors. Among those ordained was my son-in-law, Ion Suruceanu, who was set apart as a deacon at the church in Cojușna.

Also, this September, I went to Ireland, where I attended the blessing of my fifth grandchild.

During this period, several churches have also been working with individuals who have repented, preparing them for baptism. In the church in Slobozia, four people have entered into a covenant with the Lord, and work is currently underway with seven others who will also enter into a covenant in the future. Angela, Stelica's wife is on the left in the photo, with Stelica on the right, in the church in Slobozia Mare.

Furthermore, throughout September and October, several evangelistic events themed "Thanksgiving Day" were organized in various localities, including Slobozia Mare, Giurgiulești, Cîșlița Prut, and Antonești. In Antonești, this was the first time we held an evangelistic event of this nature; it left a deep impression on some, and five souls came forward to repent.

In closing, we hope that you will continue to stand with us and support us through your prayers, asking the Lord to bless the work and the ministries here in Moldova. I also want to express my special gratitude to the Lord for you and for the fact that you stand by my side—you are a great blessing to us. May the Lord reward you abundantly.

With esteem and respect,

Pastor Stelian Bularu
