Community In Acts

John 4:34 “ My food,” said Jesus, “is to do the will of him who sent me and to finish his work.”

Here is just one more example of the disciples not truly understanding Jesus. They falsely assumed someone had brought food to Jesus while they were gone. Jesus responds with this statement, “My food, is to do the will of him who sent me and to finish his work.” They were confused. Jesus elevates the conversation from a provisional need to His divine purpose and unwavering devotion to accomplish His Father’s will here on earth. Nothing will derail Him. Let’s be more like Jesus today and fixate on accomplishing His will and that our will is to do His.

Well

Today ,we will be using the DR-20 to begin the drilling for the building. The DR-20, donated to us by Living Waters now has a new motor, new hoses, new hydraulic motor, newly machined shaft and bearings, seals and o-rings, a newly conditioned fuel-tank, new tires and a new axel. We have newly trained students and today is the day we begin to drill. Let’s go team!

Electrical/Solar

The electrician went home yesterday after working a full week. As so often happens in construction down here much of the conduit was pinched closed. As a result, we had to put some surface mounted channels in some of the rooms and by the stairs. I really don’t like doing that, but we had not alternative. He is not done, but we are close. He says he has about one more week of work. However, he did finish enough for the solar company to come back and finish their installation. We are very excited!

Todd Beel

This week, Todd (My son Caleb’s father-in-law) will be teaching a class on church-planting. He was the country director for Mexico and Central America with the IMB. We are excited that he is here with us and the students are really looking forward to learning from him. One added advantage to having Todd here is not only his experience in church planting, but he is also fluent in Spanish.

Kitchen/Laundry Room

We now have a kitchen up and running. This is huge because we now can eat in the building and stop tracking mud into Juan and Susy’s house. We also have a functioning laundry room. Unfortunately, we do have a plugged drain pipe that is backing up three dorm rooms.

Prayer Requests:

1. Please pray we get a successful well for the Seminary.
2. Please pray we find the blockage in our drain system.
3. Please pray for Todd as he teaches church planting this week.
4. Please pray for the remaining funding to finish this building project.
